

Popery and Schism

Equally Dangerous to the CHURCH of ENGLAND,

As by LAW Establish'd.

AND

Separation from the establish'd CHURCH, prov'd by undeniable Matters of Fact and Reason, to be, even in the Opinion of the Pope, Cardinals, and Jesuits, the only probable Means for introducing Popery again into this Kingdom.

TOGETHER WITH

A Prefatory DISCOURSE, touching the present and past TIMES.

AS ALSO

A LETTER to the Teachers of the several and respective Dissenting Congregations in Great Britain.

The whole humbly offer'd to the serious Consideration of the several Members of the present PARLIAMENT and CONVOCAATION.

The Second Edition.

MATTHEW 23.

Woe unto you, Scribes and Pharisees, Hypocrites, for ye compass Sea and Land, to make one Profelyte; and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the Child of Hell, than your selves.

Wherefore ye be Witnesses unto your selves, that ye are the Children of them that killed the Prophets.

Fill ye up then the Measure of your Fathers.

O Serpents, ye Generation of Vipers! How can ye escape the Damna-tion of Hell?

LONDON: Printed for G. SAWBRIDGE in Little Britain, and Sold by J. MORRHEW near Stationers-Hall. 1715.

CATALOGUE of BOOKS printed for, and sold by George Sawbridge in Little Britain.

E NGLAND's Black Tribunal, set forth in the Tryal of King Charles I, by the pretended High Court of Justice in Westminster-Hall, January 20, 1648. Together with his Majesty's Speech on the Scaffold erected at White-Hall-Gate, Tuesday, January 30, 1648. Also a perfect Relation of the Sufferings and Death of divers of the Nobility and Gentry, who were inhumanly murder'd for their constant Loyalty to their Sovereign Lord the King: Together with their several dying Speeches; from the Year 1642 to 1658, viz. Earl of Strafford, Arch-bishop of Canterbury, Duke Hamilton, Earl of Holland, Arthur Lord Capel, James Earl of Derby, Marquess of Montross, Colonel William Sybbald, Col. Eusebius Andrews, Col. John Penningdoddock, Col. Gerrard, Sir Henry Hyde, Sir Henry Slingsby, Col. John Morris, Cornet Blackburne, Cornet Hugh Grove, and Doctor John Henry. To this fourth Edition is added an Historical Preface, by a true Churchman, that liv'd in those rebellious Times. Price, bound in Calfs, 2s. 6d.

In a Day or two will be publish'd,

A new Catalogue of the Dukes, Marquesses, Earls, Viscounts, and Barons, that sat in the Parliament, which began at Westminster, the 3d of November, 1640, (known by the Name of Long and Rebellious) Now re-printed from the 5th Edition, where the Names of the Loyal Gentlemen that deserted them, are mark'd with a * Pr. 3d.

In the Press, the second Edition of

The Rise and Growth of Fanaticism, or a View of the Principles, Plots, and pernicious Practices of the Dissenters, for upwards of 40 Years; their Baseness in perverting the Word of God, detected and expos'd. With a particular Instance of a most unheard of Piece of Inhumanity of Mr. Richard Baxter's. Also, an Extract of the Life of that pretended Reformer John Knox; and an Account of the Writings and Life of Buchanan; together with King James the First's Character of the Presbyterians. — Soon his unhallow'd Fingers stript — His Sovereign Liege of Pow'r and Land; — And having smote his Master, slipt, — His Sword into his Fellow's Hand. — But he that wears his Eyes, may note, — The Butcher often binds a Goat, — And leaves his Boy to cut his Throat. — Geneva Ballad. Price 6d.

The weary Pilgrim, returning to Jerusalem, encourag'd; in a Letter to his Niece, whose Parents had been seduc'd by Quakers. By a Person of Quality. Price bound in Sheep 1s.

The History of Faction, alias Hypocrisy, alias Moderation, from its first Rise, wherein its Original, and Increase, are set forth; its several Contrivances to subvert the Church and State apparently detected; and the Steps it has made towards getting into the Supream Power, from the Reformation, are consider'd. It is certain, that a Man shall not see such horrible Monsters in the Papacy, as where the Gospel is preach'd and profess'd; for they will say they are reform'd, and yet they seem to be Devils incarnate; neither have we need to go far off for such Sights. Price 2s. 6d.

A Letter to the Ladies of Great Britain, to prevent their falling in Love with Non-Con Parsons. With two remarkable Dreames, and a Poem against Dr. Clark of St. James's. Price 3d.

Recent in the former (which is the thing that hath been, it is that which shall be, and that hath been, is now; and that which is to be, hath already been: From which it may justly be farther inferred, that what is now, hath what has been laid before, that is, but what is materially the same, the perhaps differing as to the manner and form thereof, according to that of

PREFACE.

WISE Men, in all Ages, have left it as a standing Rule to Posterity for their Government, That a Retrospection into the Histories and Transactions of former Times, is the truest Looking-glass, in which they can take the clearest and most probable View of future Events; because, by comparing Men with Men, and Things with Things, of the same Nature, they may reasonably conclude, that Men of the same Kidney and Principles, (whether good or bad) and acting by the same Engines, will always, either directly or indirectly, point at the same Ends; and that the same Causes, will, generally speaking, produce also the same, or the like, Effects.

A certain late Peer, famous for Speech-making, has more than once, on publick Occasions, inculcated that common Saying of his, that What has been, may be; and a much greater than he, has left it upon b Record,

The P R E F A C E.

Record, in the sacred Oracles, that the thing that hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done, is that which shall be done; and that there is no new thing under the Sun, Eccles. i. 9. The Observation whereof made so strong an Impression on the same Royal Preacher's Mind, that he repeats it again, Chap. iii. v. 15. That which hath been, is now; and that which is to be, hath already been: From which it may justly be farther inferr'd, that nothing is now said, but what has been said before; that is, but what is materially the same, tho' perhaps differing as to the Manner and Form thereof, according to that of Terence, Nihil jam dictum est, quod non sit prius dictum.

Since then the Authorities of the Sages of Antiquity, are unquestionably the best Evidence that can be offer'd or requir'd, for proving the Truth of such Accounts, as have been transmitted to us, by the Histories of those Times, we ought to be farther confirm'd in the Belief thereof, when we see the same, or the like Things, acted by a new Generation of Men in our own Days.

The whole Scope and Design of the following Treatise, is, to convince every intelligent and unprejudic'd Reader, that to encourage the Dissenters of whatever Denominations, as they are Separatists from the establish'd Church of England, either in Principles, Doctrine, or Worship, is in Effect the same, as to encourage Popery: For, how disagreeable and frightful soever the Sound of Popery is to the Generality of such simple and well-meaning deluded Dissenters of all Kinds, as have not Penetration and Judgment enough to discover the Danger of that

Hook

Hook which lies hidden under the Bark of all Pharisaical Pretences; it manifestly appears, by the undeniable Matters of Fact, and plain Reasoning contain'd in the few following Sheets, even to a Demonstration, that the several Religious Sectaries now in these Kingdoms of Great Britain and Ireland, are originally, each of them, a Political Spawn of Popery; that is, that the chief Principles, in which they differ from the establish'd Church of England, were, generally speaking, first hatch'd at Rome, and ever since advanc'd and propagated by the Jesuits, and her other Emisaries here, under the plausible Pretence of a thorough Reformation of the Reform'd Church of England, most happily by Law establish'd; as a Contrivance to raise, multiply, and maintain Schisms, Rents, and Divisions among us, till we become at last (if God of his infinite Mercy do not think fit to prevent it) an entire Property to what these same pretended Saints, the disguis'd Jesuits, would zealously seem to shun, by ringing in our Ears a continual Out-cry against Popery! Popery! Popery! at the same Time that they labour, all they can, to introduce it, under the Pharisaical and hypocritical Cloak of greater Purity and Sanctity of Religion, than is profess'd or practis'd by that Church, which they know to be not only the greatest Bulwark of the Reform'd Protestant Religion, but likewise the most Apostolick (and consequently the most opposite in Principles, Doctrine, and Worship, to the Church of Rome) of all the Christian Churches upon Earth. Opposite (I say) in all the innovated Articles and Points, which are not either expressly or consequentially founded in Scripture, and wherein she (the Church of Rome) really and substantially differs, and has actually departed from her primitive Self,

Here I would not have the Reader misapprehend me so far, as to imagine, that, in making up this general Charge, I comprehend under one and the same Predicament, indistinctly, all Persons whatsoever that pass under the general Denomination of Papists, or Roman Catholicks: No, God forbid I should be so void of Charity! For I have Reason to believe, that as we have Instances of noble and generous Heathens, who (to the Scandal of too many of us Christians) have excell'd most of us, in several moral Virtues; so there are several of the Communion of the Church of Rome, who, through their own natural Disposition, (I had almost said, innate Goodness) and, according to the best of the Light that is given them, are (notwithstanding the Prejudices of their Infancy and Education) endu'd with many excellent Christian Qualities, which render human Society very comfortable; such as Generosity, Humility, Charity, Devotion, Gentleness, Patience, Self-denial, Resignation, and some other Christian Graces, in common with the best among us. And if, through the powerful Influence of their Education, and the almost invincible Ignorance that frequently attends it, such Persons do not discern the great Faults of their Church and Church-men, it were still uncharitable in us, to make them accountable for the pernicious Errors and Corruptions of their Guides, otherwise than by leaving them to the boundless Mercy of God, the common and most indulgent Father of all Mankind: Which, I am perswaded, may be likewise said, with respect to several well-meaning Dissenters among us, who, with a sincere, tho' misguided Zeal, are too frequently made Tools for carrying on a Work they never intended: And this my Charity is the more extended, by reason of that Text: Rev. vii. 9. After this, I beheld, and lo! a great Multitude, which which no Man could number, of all Nations, and Kindred, and People, and Tongues, stood before the Throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white Robes, and Palms in their Hands.

The PREFACE.

V

But, as to all such designing Popes, Cardinals, Jesuits, Casuistical Doctors, and spiritual Guides and Teachers of all Sorts, who, under the Colour of that Empire which they pretend to have over the Consciences of their severall and respective Disciples, make it their Business (for obtaining a temporal Power likewise over their Bodies and Estates) to embroil whole Empires, Kingdoms, Principalities, States, and Families, and set them together by the Ears, that they themselves may thereby have the better Opportunity of fishing in troubled Waters, I must ingeniously confess, I think I make no Breach of the Rules of common Charity, when I say I have very little Charity towards them.

Nor am I singular in this Point; for even the Generality of the best and most sober of the Communion of the Church of Rome herself, have frequently acknowledg'd and declar'd their Detestation and Abhorrence of many of the Principles and Practices of severall of the late Orders sprung up among them; particularly those of the Jesuits, for whose Character, in the general, I refer the Reader to the admirable Letters of the renown'd Father Paul the Venetian, and Author of the incomparable History of the Proceedings and Acts of that pack'd Conventicle, commonly call'd, The Council of Trent. But, since those Letters may not probably fall into the Hands of every Reader, I shall here transcribe a Paragraph out of one of them, verbatim, according to the Translation thereof, printed at London, in 1693. The Letter is dated, at Venice, the 17th of March, 1609, and the Words are these following: I have heard that Monsieur Castrine is getting me the Constitutions of the Jesuits copy'd out, in order to the sending them hither. I long to see them; for surely 'tis a strange thing to think how close they keep them here in Italy. 'Tis not long since Gregory XIV. made a Brief in Favour of them, and yet I cannot, for my Life, get a Copy of it, they keep their Secrets so unknown to the World; and you will excuse me, if I make no Difference between a Spaniard and a Jesuit, except in this, (wherein I agree with you) that I take the greatest Spanish Rogue in the whole World, to be a better Man, than the least wicked Jesuit that is: For a Spaniard hath Guts in his Brains, and hath a Capacity of learning some Good, if he be but taught it; but the Jesuits are all Flint, and their Consciences are darken'd; and there is no speaking to them, (unless you have a Kingdom to embroil, or a Parliament to toss up in the Air.) I believe there was never a Race of Men, that were such sworn Enemies to Goodness and Truth (since the World stood) as they are. And 'tis strange, if God hath not suffer'd the King of France to be impos'd upon, in entrusting the Education of the Dauphin to one of them.

In that, and several others of his excellent Letters, the same Father Paul, in a most admirable and witty, though withal, discreet Manner, lays open and explodes the arbitrary, vile, and horrid Practices of the Deputy-God (as he ironically stiles the Pope) and Court of Rome; and, in a special Manner, the then Favourite-Cardinal Bellarmine, for asserting and most tenaciously vindicating the Pope's Deposing Power of Kings and Princes, which he (Father Paul) confutes with very solid Arguments, both from Reason and Scripture; for which his Life has been very frequently in Danger, by mercenary Ruffians, hir'd on purpose to have assassinated him.

The Consideration of all which has made me often regret, with great Pity, that many learned and judicious Persons among the Roman-Catholicks, who are fully convinc'd of the great Corruptions and Errors of the Court and Church of Rome, should nevertheless, chiefly to avoid the Imputation of Fickleness and Inconstancy in changing their Religion, continue still, upon the account of a mistaken Point of Honour, in the Communion of that Church wherein they happen'd to be first baptiz'd and educated; only with a private Restriction on themselves, with respect to some of her Doctrines. And there are not wanting some Instances of such Persons, not only in Popish Countries, but even here in Great Britain: Nay, I know some, and have heard of others, who have chearfully had their Children educated according to the Principles of the reform'd and establish'd Church of England. I heartily wish their Number were more, and that I could say the like of our Republican Dissenters also. And I am farther certain, that there have been, and still are, great Numbers of learned and pious Men, of the Communion of the Church of Rome, in France and Italy, who have given manifest Testimonies of their sincere Inclinations, to have avowedly declar'd themselves for the Reformation, were it not for the Fear of being treated as Father Paul, the Venetian, was.

The Republicans, and Assertors of the Pope's deposing Power, are perfectly agreed in this Point, That Sovereign Princes have no such independent and supreme Power inherent in their Persons, but that they are accountable, and may be depriv'd of their Government, vernment upon Account of Heresy, or Male-Administration; but differ only as to the Persons, in whom the Power of calling Princes to an Account doth lie; whether it be in the Pope or the People. However, an Act of Violence and Injustice is still the same, with respect to the Party wrong'd and oppress'd, whether it be committed by One, or 1000, or any greater Number.

And, even as to this, the Republicans and the Pope, do not differ so much as Men may, at first, imagine: For, however the Primitive Christians thought it no Flattery to Princes, to derive their Power immediately from God, and to make them accountable to him alone, as being superior to all below himself (as might be, and actually has been already elsewhere prov'd by Multitudes of Testimonies): Yet, after the Pope's deposing Power came into Request, the Commonwealth-Principles did so too; and the Power of Princes was said to be of another Original; and that therefore they were accountable to the People. Thus Gregory the 7th, not only took upon him to depose the Emperor Henry the 4th, and absolve his Subjects from their Allegiance; but he makes also the first Institution of Monarchical Government, to be a meer Usurpation upon the just Rights and Liberties of the People. For he saith, * That Kings and Princes had their Beginning from those, who being ignorant of God, got the Power into their Hands over their Equals, (through the Instigation of the Devil) and by their Pride, Rapine, Perfidiousness, Murther, Ambition, intolerable Presumption, sumption, and all manner of Wickedness. And yet this same levelling Pope Gregory VII was canoniz'd for a Saint.

* Quis nesciat Reges & Duces ab iis habuisse principium, qui Deum ignorantes, superbiâ, rapinis, perfidiâ, homicidiis, postremo universis pene sceleribus, (mundi Principe, Diabolo videlicet agitante) super pares, se homines dominari cœcâ cupiditate, & intolerabili Præsumptione, affectaverunt. Greg. 7. lib. 8. Ep. 21.

Now, I appeal to the private Judgment of every individual Person now living, as well as to the publick Judgment of all Mankind, Whether (during all the Time of the horrid Grand Rebellion, which embroil'd, and at last quite overturn'd the whole Frame of our Constitution, both as to Civil and Religious Rights, about the Middle of the last Century, (that is) from the Year 1640, to 1660) any Remonstrance, Declaration of the Army, or Agreement of the People, gave a worse Account of the Beginning of Monarchy, than this sanctify'd, infallible, and pretended Universal Head of the whole Christian Church doth?

Here is a Papal Justification of all the Rebellions against Kings and Princes, that ever have been or can be set on Foot, by the most barbarous and cruel Regicides that ever liv'd; which, (according to this canoniz'd Pope's Principles) would be nothing else, but our Sovereign Lord's (the People's) recovering their pretended just Rights, against the intolerable Usurpations of Kings and Princes. And how well the Presbyterians, Independants, and all other antimonarchichal Trumpeters of Rebellion, and Assertors of the Peoples Right of resisting their lawful Superiors, have copy'd after this Popish Original, the Histories of the last Age, and many Persons still living, can (to the indelible Scandal and Reproach of all these pretended Reformers) more than sufficiently testify.

I would gladly know what divine Assistance this infallible Pope had, when he gave that admirable Account of the Original of Civil Government? And whether it may not be very possible for Men, upon his c Principles,

Principles, to be both Saints and Rebels (that is, Devils) at the same Time? Which is so very gross an Absurdity, that I am astonish'd to think, how a Sett of Men in this Island, who still make such an hideous Out-cry against Popery, and for preserving this Land from being over-run with Popery, &c. should yet, nevertheless, both by their open Profession and Practice, justify and follow these rebellious, Popish Principles; and by their avow'd Separation, and manifest Schism from the establish'd Church of England, give continued Opportunities to Jesuits (those Wolves in Sheeps Cloathing) to creep into their several Congregations, and spread, still more and more, the Poyson of Popish and Antichristian Principles among them.

And to illustrate the Truth of this Charge a little farther, (beside the clear and undeniable Instances expatiated upon in the following Treatise) I must entreat the Reader's Patience, to compare with me, and consider the exact Analogy, Resemblance, and Agreement, that (upon a serious View, and unbiass'd Examination of both) is found to have been, all along, between the Principles, Doctrine, and Practices of the Jesuits, and that of their Disciples, the Jesuited Dissenters in this Island, with respect to our chief Duties to God, the King, and our Neighbours.

By what I can find, within the small Compass of my Reading, the Jesuits, (those great Plotters of Separation from the establish'd Church here) and private Presbyteries, came first into England much about the same Time; and behav'd themselves in their several (if several) Designs, by the same Model; the One, in indicting Councils, summoning Synods, enacting and reversing Orders, and exercising all Manner of Papal Jurisdiction; the Other, in appointing Meetings, both Classical and Synodical, cal, in setting down Decrees, in reversing Orders, in electing Ministers, exacting Subscriptions, executing Censures of Suspension and Excommunication, where they thought it good; writing exactly by the same Copy.

The Principles, on which they proceeded to these Enormities, were and are still the same. For what the Jesuits, and other Partizans of the Romish Communion, do, by Virtue of the Power pretended to be lodg'd in their Church, and the absolute Jurisdiction (as they would perswade their Disciples) Christ has given to the Pope (his pretended Vicar) over all the World; the same Things, in Effect, are done by the Brethren, (so they stil'd themselves) arrogating to their Presbyteries, as the chief Ministers of the Kingdom of Christ, the Power to uphold his Throne, to wield God's Scepter, and manage his holy Toke, (so they phrase it) which is their Discipline: By which, and the woful Experience these Nations have felt of their unparallel'd Tyranny, and repeated Usurpations, it is manifest, that tho' the Pretence of both the one and the other, has been the Cause of God and Religion; yet Dominion, Power, and Wealth, is what they have all along aim'd at, and been too successful in obtaining, by means of those pious Frauds, and holy Cheats, which they equally impos'd on the implicit Judgments of their respective blind Votaries.

If it be true, (as some tell us it is) that the Motto of the Order of the Jesuits, is Woe to Sinners, it may very justly be said, that the restless and rebellious Practices of too many ambitious, Republican Spirits among the Dissenters, and Sectaries of all Sorts, may serve for a Comment on it.

But because, how near soever Brethren they are, or may be, in Iniquity, there is nothing, at which both the one and the other seem to be more uneasy, than at being thought such; let us draw the Parallel a little nearer, and see what the Guilt of the one is in this Affair, and whether that of the other be in any respect short of it.

Tho' ever since the Time of Pope Gregory VII. already mention'd, his Successors have approv'd and practis'd the Doctrine of excommunicating, damning, and deposing of Kings and Emperors, and of granting Absolutions to their Subjects from all Oaths of Allegiance, together with special Injunctions never to obey them: Yet, neither the Pope, nor any of their Party, were ever so daring, as to approve expressly the Doctrine of assassinating of Princes, before the Time of Ignatius Loyola, the Founder of that wicked Order of the Jesuits, and the unhapy Papal Approbation and Confirmation of their Society, in the Year 1540. But was rather condemn'd, as impious, inhuman, and barbarous, not only by their learned Men, but likewise by their Popes and Councils themselves. Yet, nevertheless, the Jesuits, and others of their Party and Principles, do still teach and inculcate the Lawfulness of that Diabolical Doctrine of assassinating Princes, &c. and endeavour incessantly, by their pious Frauds and lying Calumnies, to sow Sedition and Disaffection among the People, so as to raise them in Rebellion against such Princes, as they imagine are not in their Interest, that they may cut them off by Civil Wars, and if that succeed not, by private Assassination. And these horrid Principles, and Doctrines, have not only been asserted, and strenuously maintain'd by many noted Writers of the Romish Church, such as Cardinal Bellarmine and Tolet, Mariana, Suares, Gueztser, and hundreds of others, but solemnly approv'd approv'd, first by the publick Censors and Licensers of all Popish Books, and then confirm'd by several Popes themselves, within these 160 Tears past. And, to compleat the Character of that Man of Sin and Perdition, who exalts himself above all that is called God, 2 Thess. ii. 4. these same Writers have blasphemously bestow'd upon him (the Pope) some of the peculiar Attributes of God; such as Infallibility, and an absolute supernatural Power and Superiority over all the Emperors, Kings, and Princes of the Earth; so as to depose, excommunicate, and damn them; authorize their Subjects to rebel against and assassinate them, without Sin; and to dispose of their Dominions as he thinks fit, in case they submit not to his arbitrary Determination in all things whatsoever, both Spiritual and Temporal; which is the same as to have call'd him, The King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, 1 Tim. vi. 15. Nor indeed do I see, that they fall any thing short of giving him even that Title, when, in the best Edition of their Canon Law, confirm'd by Pope Gregory XIII, and printed at Paris, Anno 1612, they blasphemously call him, Our Lord God the Pope!

The P R E F A C E. xiii

Thus Pope Innocent III, in his Letter to Philip King of France, (as Matthew Paris relates) calls the King of England, his Vassal and Slave.

Pope Alexander II. made an absolute Donation of all the West Indies, to Ferdinand King of Castile, without knowing indeed what he thus gave away, or having any Regard to the just Right of the Natives.

The Solemn Bulls that Pope Paulus III. issu'd against King Henry VIII; and Pope Pius V. against Queen Elizabeth, (promising, at the same Time, her Kingdoms of England and Ireland to King Philip of Spain) and the Gun-Powder Plot, contriv'd and carry'd

carry'd on by the Jesuits, (Parsons and Garnet, &c.) are so notoriously known here, that I need scarcely make any Mention at all of them.

But if these Doctrines should still be allow'd to take Place, neither Popish nor Protestant Princes can be safe, longer than they implicitly submit to the absolute Will and Pleasure of the Pope, in all Things whatsoever, both Spiritual and Temporal. For tho' Henry III, and Henry IV of France, were neither Calvinists nor Lutherans, but declar'd Sons of the Church of Rome; yet, because they did not comply implicitly in all such extravagant Measures as the Pope and his Party expected, they were successively assassinated and murther'd, to the great and avow'd Joy of the Pope and Court of Rome; and the barbarous Regicides canoniz'd for their pious and meritorious Villainy. King Henry III was murther'd by Jacques Clement, a Fryer, on the 1st of August 1589. And tho' King Henry IV escap'd the bloody Attempt of that inhuman Russian, John Chastell, in the Year 1594, yet he fell, by the more successful Hand of Ravillac, on the 14th of May 1610. And both these Assassines confess'd, at their respective Executions, that they were prompted to commit these horrid Murthers, by the Instigations of Fathers Guynard and Gueret, Jesuits, and by the reading of Mariana's Works.

Now, to come nearer Home: Some few Tears after the Time that F. Commin, (a Dominican Fryer) and Thomas Heth, (a Jesuit) were, in the Tears 1567 and 1568, discover'd in Masquerade, under the Colour of having been very zealous Puritans, (vide Pag. 11. and Page 22.) to be alienating the Minds of their Hearers from the Doctrine and Worship of the then Reform'd Church of England, now happily by Law establiſh'd, Johannes Baptista

Bicklerus

Bicklerus, of the Romish Perswasion, and an anonymous pretended Disciple of John Calvin, publish'd two several Books, under the very same Title, viz, De Jure Magistratum in Subditos, & Officio Subditorum erga Magistratus, using the very same Arguments, and (mutatis mutandis) the very same Words, only with such Alterations as might serve their several Hypotheses; and concluding with the same Popish Doctrine, the Lawfulness of resisting, deposing, and extirpating supreme Powers, when their several Occasions so requir'd it.

Both these were publish'd within the Time of the ingenious Buchanan's publishing his Anti-monarchical and Hackney-Party Libel, (De Jure Regni apud Scotos) which has been since irrefragably answer'd and refuted by his own Country-man, that great Wit of Scotland, (as Mr. Dryden calls him, in his Preface to the Translation of Juvenal) the learned Sir George Mackenzie, in his Jus Regium, dedicated to, and approv'd by the most learned Body of Men in the World, the famous University of Oxford, under their Publick Seal. In this same Jus Regium, the Principles of Parsons, the Jesuit, under the counterfeit Name of Dolman, as well as those of Buchanan, Naphthali, Knox, and other Anti-monarchical Writers, are severally consider'd and confuted.

To these I might add many other most virulent Pamphlets, that were then scatter'd among the People, such as Goodman's true Obedience, Martin Mar-Prelate, The Demonstration of the Discipline, set out by Penry and Udal, Ministers, and by Throckmorton, Knightly, and Wigton, Laicks, in, or about the Year 1588, the same Year when our Queen Elizabeth was depos'd by the thundering Bull of Pope Sixtus Quintus; and the King of Spain

Spain came with his Invincible Armado to seize her forfeited Crown. And all this, about the same Time that Subscriptions were first requir'd by the Queen and Parliament to the Book of Articles, which have ever since been the Dread of all Innovators both in Church and State, as being unquestionably so much for the Security and Stability of both, Ab uno disce omnes.

*'Tis true, that before any of all these Innovators appear'd upon the Stage, there were several private Murmurers in the Reign of King Edward II, who gave some Indications of a hankering after the general Discipline, but not with any Warmth, or apparent Zeal, before the Fire of Separation, Schism, and Sedition, was kindled amongst them in Queen Elizabeth's Reign, by Jesuits in Masquerade, as formerly mention'd, and some other hot-spur'd Zealots, far beyond whatever was written, preach'd, or intended by that great and comprehensive Genius Mr. Calvin, from whose Example those Innovators amongst us pretended to have taken their Model in all Things; though a late learn'd Divine of the Church of England, giving a Character of him, saith, That he (Mr. Calvin) wanted nothing to have made him as orthodox and consummate a Divine, as any of the whole Christian Church, had he not been so very ignorant, as he was, of Ecclesiastical Antiquity: For, that if he had been half as well vers'd in the most primitive Ecclesiastical Writers, as he was in St. Augustine, he had never coin'd the Notion of a Lay-Elder, defended the horrible Decree, or been expos'd for so many Absurdities by meek * Cassander's Pen.*

 In defens. Lib. de Offic. pii Viri.*

As no Pope, Cardinal, or Jesuit, ever asserted, or approv'd the Papal Power to depose, excommunicate, damn,

damn, and assassinate Princes, in stronger or more express Terms, than Buchanan copy'd after them, in his De Jure Regni; (which being so notoriously known, need not be repeated here at large) so these furious Tub-Declamators and Schismatics, Knox, Gilby, Goodman, and Whittingham, &c. have left us these following Positions on Record.

That if Princes be Tyrants against God and his Truth, (of which, they say, the People are Judges) their Subjects are freed from their Oaths of Allegiance.

That Kings, Princes, and Governors, have their Authority of the People, and, upon Occasion, the People may take it away again.

That Ministers ought not to obey the Prince, when he prescribes Ceremonies, and a Fashion of Apparel.

That evil Princes ought, by the Law of God, to be depos'd, &c. beside many more of the same Nature.

The Anti-monarchical and Historical Part of all Knox's most virulent Writings, has been very learnedly refuted by his own co-temporary Country-man, (Lesley, Bishop of Ross) in his History De rebus gestis Scotorum; who (tho' of the Communion of the Church of Rome) is generally allow'd, as an Historian, to have acquitted himself with incomparably more Loyalty, Candor, Sincerity, and Humanity, than either Buchanan or Knox. And the other Writings of all those Furious's, have since (beyond the Possibility of any just Reply, by the Abettors of their Principles) been so confuted, over and over again, by Arch-bishop Spotswood, and an indefinite Number of most learned and orthodox Clergy-men and Laicks of the establish'd Church of England, that it would be a d needless

needless Piece of Vanity to recapitulate here any Part of them.

Yet nevertheless, as the Jesuits have never hitherto miss'd any Opportunity of advancing the chief End of their Hellish Institution, by sowing the Seeds of Separation, Schism, Dissentions, and Commotions, in a Soil so fruitful of such Weeds, as the Conventicles and Meeting-Houses of the Dissenters are; they have, from Time to Time, appear'd among them in all Shapes and Disguises, and of Course multiply'd their Numbers, to the sad and repeated woful Experience of these Nations, in numberless Instances too too legible in all the Histories of the last Century.

Tho' the Justification of the Papal Innovations in Religion, their usurp'd Power, and horrid Practices, is what shall ever, while I breath, be the farthest from my Intention; yet I dare modestly challenge any Man living, to vindicate the horrid Principles and Practices of the pretended Reformers of 1641, otherways, than upon the sandy Foundation of Popish and Jesuitical Principles.

For what Blasphemies of God? what perverting of the Meaning of holy Scriptures? what Jesuitical Hypocrisies? what sacrilegious Robberies of Churches? what Treasons, Rebellions, and barbarous Murthers of Princes and Nobles? what plundering Devastations of whole Countries? what absolute overturning of ancient and legal Constitutions, both of Church and State, have the Papists or Jesuits ever been guilty of? but what has too undeniably been, in too lively a Manner, copy'd after them, by those Jesuitical and Enthusiastick Reformers (or rather Deformers) before the happy Restoration of King Charles II?

And that these covenanted Brethren in Iniquity, have been all along animated to the Perpetration

tion and Execution of all those horrid Crimes and Abominations, by almost incredible Numbers of Jesuits, and other Emissaries of the Church and Court of Rome, who, with great Art and Industry, under the Cloak of pretended Religion, mingled themselves, in various Shapes, with all such Congregations of Dissenters, as the then Parliament's Army consisted of, is what every intelligent and unbiass'd Reader will (I suppose) readily grant: For (beside the uncontroverted Testimonies of some of the most learned and pious Prelates of that Age, and others) I hope even the present Generation of Dissenters themselves, will not fear up their Consciences against Conviction, so far as not to give Credit to this Assertion, when I support it with the Testimony of that once holy, covenanted, and meritorious Assertor of the unlimited Rights, Liberties, and Properties of the People, William Prynne, Esq; Benchor of Lincoln's-Inn; and (which is still yet more) by the irrefragable Testimony of that bloody Arch-Rebel and Usurper, Oliver Cromwell himself: That of the former, may be seen in several Books of his writing, but more particularly, and at large, in his Anatomy of the spurious Good old Cause, printed in the Year 1659; and that of the latter, may be seen in his printed Speech to his pretended Parliament at Westminster, the 4th of September 1654, pag. 16, 17. That he knew very well, that Emissaries of the Jesuits never came over in those Swarms, as they have done, since these Things were on Foot; and that divers Gentlemen can bear Witness with him, That they had a Consistory and Council Abroad, that rules all the Affairs of the Things in England; and had fix'd in England, in the Limits of most Cathedrals, (of which he was able to produce the particular Instrument) an Epif- copal Power, with Arch-Deacons, and other Persons, to pervert, seduce, and deceive the People. And yet it is very observable, that he (Oliver Cromwell) never executed the Penal Laws against any of them, though frequently in his Power; and tho', to satiate (if possible) the insatiable Appetite of his Avarice, Ambition, Pride, and most barbarous Cruelty, he dy'd his Hands in the Blood of his martyr'd Sovereign, the Lord's Anointed, as well as in that of many of his best and most loyal Subjects.

From all which, it may very rationally be concluded, that all the Swarms of Dissenting Teachers, (whether Puritans, Presbyterians, Independants, Anabaptists, &c.) who most seditiously and impiously, under the Disguise of pretended Religion and Sanctity, preach'd up the giddy-headed and unthinking People into the then unparall'd and bloody Grand Rebellion, were really the spurious Brood of those Popish Monastick Emissaries; tho' they did not bear the Names of their respective Fathers; but (like Bastards, and not Sons) are, together with their surviving Generations, to this Day, disown'd by those Fathers that begot them; and yet the seditious and Schismatical Principles preach'd by them, are evident Proofs of the wicked Race from which they are descended.

Tristius haud illis monstrum, nec savior ulla Pestis; & Ira Deum Stygiis sese extulit undis. Virg.

They are wise to do Evil; but to do Good, they have no Knowledge, Jerem. iv. 22.

Now, if there be no Design to revive again the same, or the like Usurpations and Practices against the Monarchy, and the Church of England as by Law establish'd, I would gladly know, why so many virulent Libels should, at this Time, be so industriously new-

new-vamp'd up, publish'd, and recommended to the World, for justifying those impious Proceedings, and diminishing the Rights both of the Crown and Church; such as particularly that matchless Mass of the most audacious Lies and Calumnies that ever saw the Light, entitled, King Charles's Case; or, An Appeal to all Rational Men concerning his Tryal at the High Court of Justice, &c. And another, entitled, Reasons humbly offer'd to the Parliament, for abrogating the Observation of the 30th of Jan. &c.

While I may seem thus to inveigh against the declar'd Enemies of the Church of England from without, I might be justly tax'd with Ignorance, or wilful Partiality, should I remain altogether silent, as to those from within: For, as there was a Judas found among the twelve Apostles, I am afraid, that, considering the Perverseness of the Age we live in, there may be more than one found among so numerous a Body of Men, as even the dignify'd Clergy of the Church of England consists of.

In King William's Declaration, (when Prince of Orange) publish'd at his Landing in England, 1688, there are these remarkable Words: Those evil Counsellors take Care to raise none to any Ecclesiastical Dignities, but such as have no Zeal for the PROTESTANT RELIGION, and that now hide their Unconcernedness for it, under the specious Pretence of Moderation. And Dr. Birch, in his Sermon preach'd before the House of Commons, on the 30th of January 1694, complain'd, that some were made FATHERS, who never had been SONS of the Church. And if so, we may the less admire, that some few Dignitaries in the Church, and others, have with Impunity hitherto, and even contrary to their Canonical Oaths, dar'd to preach and write in Defence of such pernicious (not to call them worse) worse) Doctrines, as seem to strike directly at the very Foundation of the Christian Religion, never regarding that most comprehensive Summary of St. Athanasius's Creed, (as God himself pronounc'd the same, by the Mouth of his Evangelical Prophet): For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given, and the Government shall be upon his shoulder: And his Name shall be call'd, Wonderful, Counsellor, the Mighty God, the everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace. — The Zeal of the Lord of Hosts will perform this. Isaiah ix. 6, 7.

How far Occasional Conformity, and the immoderate Abuse of that innocent Word Moderation, may have been made Use of, as Postern-Gates for letting in some Pseudo-Doctors into the Church, I shall not pretend to say; but this I am sure of, that one secret Enemy, in the Disguise of a Friend within, has ever been allow'd to be more dangerous, than incomparably a much greater Number of declar'd Enemies, without the Walls of a besieg'd City. A Friend has always many Opportunities of betraying a Man, that his avow'd Enemies can never expect to have: The Observation whereof gave probably the first Rise to that Italian Proverb, I pray God preserve me from my Friends, and I'll take Care of my Enemies, my self.

I can never sufficiently admire the extream Modesty and Moderation of a certain late eminent Doctor of the Church, who publickly pled and printed it, as an Argument, on Behalf of Occasional Conformity, That he himself was an Occasional Conformist in Holland and Geneva; but forgot to tell us, whether he was so, or not, at Rome; tho' it be strongly asserted, by several credible Persons, that (to be the better disguis'd) he wore the Jesuits Habit there; however, his Memory will be ever pretious among the dissenting Saints.

I have

I have heard some ingenious Gentlemen, who had travell'd through France, Spain, and Italy, make their Remarks, That the Looseness of Principles advanc'd and propagated by the Jesuits, and their Disciples there, had such a fatal Influence on the Lives and Morals of too many in those Parts, that, by Means thereof, many in France were addicted to Deism, many in Spain to Enthusiasm and many in Italy to downright Atheism: And I am afraid, that by Reason of the Jesuits, having originally transplanted the same bellish Doctrines (tho' more disguis'd) hither, and the lamentable Improvements that have been made of them, by Libertines of all Sorts ever since, has (to the great Mortification of all serious and sober good Men) produc'd too plentiful a Harvest of all the Three, together with a Train of many other — Ills in this Island, beside.

Nor is this dismal Effect so much to be wonder'd at, wherever such Jesuitical Doctrines, in whatever Form, are (tho' not legally tolerated, yet) seemingly wink'd at; when we consider, that among an Infinity of other absurd and wicked Propositions, (as appears from the Decree of Pope Innocent XI, bearing Date March 2, 1679.) the Jesuits maintain, that a Man either alone, or before others, may, either when he is ask'd, or of his own Accord, or for his Diversion, or any other End, swear that he did not do a Thing which he really did; having a secret Meaning, either of some other Thing which he did not do, or of another Way of doing it, or of any other Truth which he adds to it; in which Case, he is in Truth neither a Lyar, nor is he perjur'd: And that a just Cause of using those secret Meanings, is, as oft as is necessary or profitable, for the Preservation of Life, or Honour, or saving one's Goods, or for any other Act of Virtue; so that the Concealment of Truth seems, in that Case, expedient or desirable. And

And, indeed, considering that the two foregoing Propositions, together with 63 more of the like pernicious Nature, have been translated, printed, and publish'd here (tho', I am assur'd, with no evil Design) in the Year 1679, and many more additional ones in the Year 1683, I have too much Reason to suspect, that such Propositions, together with the natural Bent of some Mens Dispositions to Avarice, Ambition, and Greatness, may have, in a great Measure, contributed to several Persons having, by Occasional Conformity, and other Ways, so easily reconcil'd themselves to the taking of all manner of State-Oaths whatsoever, within the Course of some Years last past, without ever regarding how far the genuine Meaning and Intention of such Oaths may have differ'd from their own internal and secret Sentiments at the Time. And I am the less liable to be censur'd for want of Charity on this Head, because I could give an Instance of a rigid Dissenter, and of a Papist too, who have, both of them, occasionally conform'd for Gain, &c. But

———Licuit, semperque licebit Parcere Personis, dicere de vitiis.

Nay, farther, the solicitous and united Endeavours of the Dissenters, of all Sects, as well as of the disguis'd and temporizing Jesuits, at all times, against the establish'd Church of England, make some People apply to this Confederation against her, that Complaint of the Royal Psalmist, They have consulted together, with one Consent; they are confederate against thee, and said, Let us take to ourselves the Houses of God in Possession. Psal. lxxxiii. ver. 5, 12.

———In Regna Lavini
Dardanidæ venient.———

Virg.
A

A LETTER TO

All the Teachers of the several and respective Dissenting Congregations (under whatever Denominations) in Great Britain, &c.

SIRS,

AS I should not have given you the Trouble of reading, nor my self that of writing this Letter, were it not merely to induce you to read likewise, and seriously weigh, both what goes before, and follows after it; So I hope, that, upon a due and unprejudic'd Consideration of the several Matters of Fact therein set forth, you will (for your own farther Satisfaction) be then likewise inclin'd to inquire into, and examine impartially the Truth of such other material Things as are herein more generally pointed at.

The Charge against the Jesuits, (you will see) is a very heavy one, indeed: And if it be true in every Respect as to them, it must, of Course, be so in Part, with Respect at least to some of your Number;
e and

A Letter to the Dissenting Teachers.

and therefore it behoves you, either to disclaim openly the Profession and Practice of all or any Part of those vile Principles and Doctrines, for which they are so justly stigmatiz'd, even by all sober Men of the Romish Church Herself; or otherwise content yourselves with the Reproach of differing from them, (as you now seem to do politically among yourselves) in your bearing several Names of Distinction, only.

HISTORY informs us, that your Predecessors, by the Instigation of the Jesuits and other Romish Emissaries and Incendiaries, then listed among them, join'd all most zealously together to ruin both the Crown and Church; but that they no sooner compass'd their Ends, than they fell out, and had many severe Bickerings among themselves about the Division of the Spoil: The Presbyterians excommunicated the Independants, for not taking the Covenant; the Independants, in their Turn, excommunicated the Presbyterians for not taking the Engagement; and both in their Sermons and Writings, each inveigh'd against the other, in the most imbitter'd Terms that their most extravagant Passions could mutually suggest, praying for Fire from Heaven to destroy their then surviving Enemies, &c. 'till God, in his all-wise Providence, thought fit to bring Order out of their Confusions, by restoring Monarchy in the State, and a Hierarchy in the Church, both at once, in 1660. And now your Union, in pompous Cavalcades and temporal Politics, (notwithstanding your irreconcilable Differences in spiritual Matters) makes some People suspect that, some Time or other, you may possibly watch an Opportunity (if any such should ever offer) to trace the Foot-steps of your Predecessors.

Since the Confusion of Languages at the building of the Tower of Babel, no Set of Men in the World have

A Letter to the Dissenting Teachers.

have ever been so diligent or dexterous in fomenting Divisions, and multiplying Sects and Names of Distinction, amongst all Sorts of People, as the Jesuits; but more especially among such as they would either directly or indirectly bring under the Yoke and Tyranny of the Church and Court of Rome. And if ever they were successful any where, it must be allow'd they have been (and I am afraid are still so) here. But whatever the Variety of Names of Distinction may happen to work upon the Imaginations of a weak, unthinking, and giddy-headed Populace, wise and considerate Men will never regard Names simply consider'd, otherwise than as they are truly adequated to the Nature of Things intended to be signify'd or represented by them. And yet I could name some Persons, who, tho' they seem to startle even at the bare naming of Popery, can nevertheless very passionately maintain several Popish Doctrines, that, like gilded Pills, have been deliver'd to them under some other different Disguise.

I never yet saw any Thing offer'd by Dissenters, but what would necessarily increase, rather than cure our Divisions. An absolute and unlimited Toleration to all Sectaries whatever, has been several Tears with great Warmth contended for; which (if obtain'd) would of course (considering the artful and incessant Intrigues of the Jesuits) open a Back-door for letting in infinite Divisions and Sub-divisions, Errors, and Heresies among us, and even Popery itself, by the Lump, with all its most pernicious Consequences, at the End.

For the Prevention whereof, I heartily wish that all sober Men among you would seriously resolve to lay aside all misplac'd Passions, and the Prejudices of your Infancy and Education, and study to strengthen the Protestant Interest in general, by joining cordially in

A Letter to the Dissenting Teachers.

in Communion with the Church of England by Law establish'd, as being in Principles, Doctrine, and Worship, the most orthodox, regular, and truly Apostolick Church upon Earth. But as to such of your Number, (if any such there be) as will obstinately resolve to remain still Proof against all Conviction on these Heads, I'll take the Liberty to recommend to their Considerations, the few following Texts of Scripture, 2 Pet. ii. 1, 2. But there were false Prophets also among the People, even as there shall be false Teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable Heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift Destruction. And many shall follow their pernicious Ways, by reason of whom THE WAY OF TRUTH shall be evil spoken of. And the Apostle describes them farther, vers. 10. That they walk after the Flesh, in the Lust of Unclean-ness, and despise GOVERNMENT: Presumptuous are they; self-will'd: They are not afraid to speak Evil of Dignities. And vers. 19. While they promise them (that is, their Followers) LIBERTY, they themselves are the Servants of Corruption.

You see these Texts, (tho' very plain) may admit of a larger Comment, and more particular Application, than can well be compriz'd within the Bounds of a short Epistle: But when I have more Time to spare, than at present, it is very probable you may hear farther from,

S I R S,

London, March 31. 1715. Your humble Servant,

Philo-Britannus.

Popery

Popery and Schism

Equally Dangerous to the Church of England, &c.

THAT the Papists have, ever since the Reformation of Religion in Europe, been most invincibly industrious, in these Kingdoms, to bring the Church of England to

The restless Design of Papists, to regain England to Rome.

Ruin, and a total Subversion, there cannot remain the least Doubt or Scruple. For, besides apparent Matter of undeniable Fact, during the Reigns of Queen Elizabeth, King James, and King Charles the Ist, and, indeed, ever since, there are these Reasons, which have, and do animate them in the repeated Prosecution of that desperate Enterprize.

B

First.

The Reasons moving them vigorously to prosecute their wicked Design.

1. An enthusiastick Belief of the fifth Monarchy of the Church of Rome.

2. The Church of England the only Bulwark of the Protestant Religion, and their most potent Enemy.

First. A vain Enthusiastick Opinion, which in the last Century they have generally embrac'd, That there will be a Fifth Monarchy of their Church; for the erecting of which, they embroil their Brains, and the whole Christian World; wrest the Prophecies of the Scripture, and the pretended Writings of the Sybils, to countenance this beloved Chimera. Now, they look upon the English Nation become Heretick, and revolted from the Faith, as too potent and considerable in this Part of the World, to permit them to hope for any Success, till that Church and State be either so broken, as to be disabled to oppose them, or be reduc'd to the Roman Faith and Obedience.

Secondly. They look upon the Church of England therefore, as the only Bastion or Bulwark of the Protestant Religion and Interest, from whence there have sprung so many, and such a constant Succession of able Champions for Truth, and, so long as that Church continues, are like to do, as will eternally baffle all the Arguments and Reasons they have hitherto, or can produce, to support their tottering Cause; and, in all Probability, will in Time so expose them, as to convince the World of the Apostacy of Rome from the ancient primitive Christianity, and induce them to knock off the Shackles of blind Obedience, which their Ignorance, and the Romish Artifice, have fasten'd upon the Hands of all Princes and People under the Papal Jurisdiction. And whatever some People ple may imagine, * there is nothing formi- * This is appadable to Rome, in those little Sects of Se- rent, because paratists, who being by their own eternal they raise 'em ly subdividing Principles, like the Sheaf themselves.

 of Arrows in the Apologue, unbound, will be broken without any Difficulty: But the Church of England being a Body compact, firm, and well put together, and wearing so much of the primitive Purity and Antiquity, both in Doctrine and Discipline, is the Gordian Knot, which, 'till by the Sword of Pope Alexander they can unty, they can never hope to conquer the World by that of Peter; and therefore that Church is the constant Mark of their Hate and Envy; and to undermine her Foundations, they set themselves and all their Engines to work with all possible Diligence and Application.

I remember to have heard a pretty odd An Instance of Relation, which came from a Person of a Pope's Chari- Quality of this Nation, who was at Rome ty to the Eng- in the Time of the Grand Rebellion here. lish Hereticks.
 This noble Person having demanded Liberty to have an Audience of his Holiness, obtain'd it, and was treated with great Civility and Respect: After the Formalities of the Visit were over, the Pope enquir'd what News from England? To which the Gentleman reply'd, with great Testimonies of Compassion, and gave him a short Recital of the tragical Adventures of the Civil War: At which, the Pope fell into such an indecent Laughter, that the English Gentleman smartly repartee'd; Sir, certainly this is a Scene for Pity, not for Laughter. Well, young Man, said the old Pope, having gravely compos'd himself, you say true; and I take your Reproof in good part: But, added he, I cannot forbear this Testimony of Joy, when I consider, that God is about to convince you of your Errors by these severe Methods, and by their own Hands to destroy one of the best dress'd Heresies that ever appear'd in the World, since that of the Arians.

3. Secular Interest, Ambition, and Honour.

Thirdly. The Romish Clergy look upon themselves to be extremely injur'd in Point of Interest; and that they are unjustly and violently dispossest'd of all the Dignities and Revenues of the Bishopricks, Cathedrals, Abbeys, Monasteries, and other Religious Houses; and these Promotions, Dignities, and Revenues, are, from time to time, conferr'd by the Pope upon titular Bishops, Deans, &c. who, de jure, pretend a Right to them, and hope, de facto, to possess them, so soon as they can, by any Arts or Ways, reduce these Nations to the Obedience of the See of Rome. Nay, the Pope himself has the Vanity, or Impudence, to be tickled with the sweet Imagination of Sovereignty; and to pretend, from the Resignation of K. John to Pandulphus his Legate, a Title to the Imperial Crown of these Realms.

Now, ambitious Men, animated by these Hopes, and professing, as Matter of Faith, that they are free from all the Obligations of Duty and Allegiance to Heretical Princes and Usurpers, as they term ours; and, at least in Pretence, being inflam'd with an ardent Zeal for the Conversion, or Confusion, sion, of us poor Hereticks; and having always the dazzling Beams and Lustre of Interest and secular Advantage in their Eyes, together with the Hopes of Heaven, as the Merits of such Industry, to blear the Eyes of others; I say, such Men, or such Principles, must, of Necessity, lay them under the constant and restless Temptations of attempting all Things to regain their earthly, and gain a heavenly Glory into the Bargain: Nor can it be suppos'd, that they will stick at the Violation of any Laws, divine or human, by Treasons, Perjuries, Wars, or Blood-shed, which they think so far from sinful, that they esteem them meritorious and acceptable Services to God, being done in order to the Salvation of Sinners, and the Exaltation of their Church.

Now, the Ways and Methods, by which they propose to effect these, as they think and style them, glorious Undertakings, are these. The Methods Papists use to convert Hereticks.

1st. Since they are hopeless to convince, or perswade, by Force of Arguments, they endeavour to divide Protestants among themselves: And this they have done ever since the Reformation, by raising Sects and Separations from our Church in Matters of Doctrine and Practice; and again subdividing these into lesser Parties and Factions, under Pretence of greater Advances to Purity, and a thorough Reformation; and as this Principle may proceed to, no Doubt they will pursue it in infinitum. 1. To divide Protestants among themselves.

Thus

Thus I have been credibly inform'd, that a St. Omer's Jesuit declar'd, that they were twenty Years hammering out the Sect of the Quakers; and whoever considers the Positions of those People, will easily be induc'd to believe them forg'd upon a Popish Anvil. They refuse all Oaths; a neat Covert for Priests and Jesuits to evade the Tests of the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy, and avoid the Punishment which follows their Discovery! They despise the Scriptures, so do Papists; they condemn our Sacraments, especially the Eucharist, so do Papists; they do, above all Things, vilify the Ministers, so do Papists; and in many other Doctrines, they bear a great Analogy and Conformity one with the other. The Opinion of a Fifth Monarchy, looks extremely like another Spawn of the Jesuits; and had that prevail'd, as it was once in a fair Way to do, that would have done their Business; and indeed was the last Sect, I think, started among us, as it design'd for their Purpose; for it would have been an easy Translation of that Monarchy to the Papal Throne, 'till Christ should come in Person, to have exercis'd it himself. And I find a remarkable Hint of this in Dr. Oates's Narrative and Depositions, Paragraph 34, where the Jesuits, and one Green, with eight other Fifth-Monarchy-Men, club together for the Firing of the City of London.

And, indeed, herein the Papists have been most industrious; and it is but just to fear they are so still, to animate those Separations parations they have created, with such Principles of Hatred and Animosity against the Church of England, as will admit of no Reconciliation, nor any lower Terms of Satisfaction, than her utter Ruin, and entire Subversion; and they move every Stone, that not one Stone must be left upon another in that glorious Building: For this Purpose, they have endeavour'd to perswade the People into a Hatred of the Governors of the Church, by telling them of their near Approaches to Popery, against which, and the Pope himself, to cover the Artifice, it is no Matter how bitterly they inveigh, so long as by this Stratagem they divide Men from the Church.

Thus have they drawn off the People from the Love of the State, and authoriz'd publick Prayers, and Service of the Church, by introducing, practising, and commending that novel Way of praying extempore; to which Gavan the Jesuit was so inur'd, that he could not, at his Execution, forbear running into an Enthusiastick Fit of it. This has been a Key which has open'd the Doors of many Lips to blaspheme God and Religion, to utter vain, idle, impertinent, seditious, heretical, and impious Harangues, the very Froth of Fancy, and the Scum of Effrontery, which yet they have dedicated to God Almighty; and though it was really a Sacrifice of Fools, have father'd it upon the Spirit of Wisdom. And of this the Papists have made no small Advantage, to profelyte People from ours to the Romish Communion; and yet yet they first recommended this Engine to the People; they have oppos'd it too, and exalted it above the common Prayers, as more spiritual and prevailing, branding those with all the Titles of Infamy; and which has succeeded to their Wish, and is now generally taken up as a great Truth by all Dissenters, that the Liturgy is nothing but the Mass-Book in English, and the very Dregs of Popery, Idolatry, and Superstition;

2. Having divided us, to destroy us by those Divisions.

2dly. Having thus successfully divided us, and inflam'd Dissenters with a Zeal so hot against the Church of England, as is fit, upon all Occasions, both to take and give Fire, they endeavour to blow up those Sparks into a Flame: They persuade Dissenters, Episcopacy is guilty of most intolerable Ambition, Pride, Avarice, and Tyranny; they press them to maintain their Liberty of Conscience against the Antichristian Yoke of Ceremonies, and to pull down Babylon; and take hold of all Occasions, to run them into open Hostilities and Rebellion against the Civil, as well as the Ecclesiastical Power and Government; and all this, in Hopes to destroy us with our own Weapons, that then they may erect their Church-Triumphant upon the Ruins of ours, which they have render'd truly Militant.

—En ! quò Discordia, cives, Perduxit miseris.

The sincere and tender Love I have for my dear and native Country, the Compassion I have for the Wounds of a bleeding Church and Nation, and the great Honour and Esteem I have for the Protestant Religion, as profess'd and practis'd in the Church of England, which I have not embrac'd out of the Compliances of Education, but the Force and Conviction of Reason, grounded upon deliberate Debates, and a near Examination, oblige me to contribute all I can to rectify the Misunderstandings which have occasion'd our unhappy Breaches and Divisions; nor could I think of any Expedient more conducive to the attaining my Design, than the exposing to the open View of the World, the Artifices of these our inveterate Enemies, wherewith they have given us so many both secret and open Wounds, as have once already prov'd almost mortal and incurable; for the Poyson of Asps is under their Lips, and they shoot sharp and envenom'd Arrows, which wound at a Distance, and kill by Degrees: And if we give them Opportunity to redouble their Blows, they will, in all humane Appearance, lay us weltring in our own and one another's Blood, without the Assistance of any other Massacre than what we execute upon our selves.

And now, in Regard that Generals are These Practices rarely so forcible and convictive, though prov'd by particular Instances, never so true, as particular Matters of Fact, and Matter of unquestionable Truth. in Hopes of doing a charitable Office to those who have been hurry'd down this Popish Flood of Calumnies, with which the Romish Dragon has persecuted our Church, and driven her into the Wilderness, I will prove the Truth of my Charge, by such undeniable Matter of Fact, as shall leave no Excuse for Non-conviction, to any Persons to whose Hands these Papers shall come; except such, who have resolv'd not to acknowledge any Conviction, and who, by a resolute persisting in a seeming Infidelity, properly call'd, a wilful Obstinacy, justly render themselves suspected, if not evidently guilty of a Confederacy, and downright Combination with the Papists, to introduce Popery and Tyranny upon the Ruins both of Church and State.

A notable Relation of a Dominican Friar who pretended himself a Puritan in Queen Elizabeth's Time.

I will begin them with a remarkable Narrative of a Dominican Friar, being an Extract out of the Memorials of the Lord Cecil, an eminent Statesman in the Reign of Queen Elizabeth, from whose Papers it was transmitt'd to the Reverend Bishop Usher, sometime Lord-Primate of Ireland; whose Name, so venerable even to many Dissenters, may possibly influence them to sober Considerations of the Danger to which they expose the Protestant Religion, by their Separation, whilst thereby they give Opportunity to these ravening Wolves, in Sheeps-cloathing, to enter in among them, and scatter those Souls from Christ's Fold, who would otherwise be one Flock under that one great Bishop and Shepherd of Souls. The Papers of the Lord-Primate, coming to the Hands of Sir James Ware, Knight, late one of his Majesty's Privy Council Council in Ireland, his Son, Robert Ware, Esquire, has oblig'd the Publick by the Communication of them.

In the Year 1567, being the ninth Year of the Reign of Queen Elizabeth, one Faithful Commin, a Friar of the Order of St. Dominick, a Person generally reputed a zealous Protestant, and much admir'd and follow'd by the People for his seeming Piety, but more particularly, for inveighing, in his Pulpit, most bitterly against Pius Quintus, then Pope, was accus'd by John Clerkson, Chaplain to the Arch-bishop of Canterbury, Nicholas Draper, and Mary Dean; who, being sworn upon the Holy Evangelists, before her Majesty, and the Lords of the Council, depos'd, That the said Faithful Commin was no true Protestant, but a false Impostor, a Sower of Sedition amongst her Majesty's loyal Subjects. Upon which, on the 5th of April, being Monday, the said Faithful Commin was brought before the Queen's Majesty, and the Honourable Lords of the Privy Council, and there examin'd by his Grace, Matthew Parker, Lord Arch-bishop of Canterbury, as followeth:

L. Arch-b. Faithful Commin, Of what Profession art thou?

Fa. Com. Of Christ's Order.

L. Archb. What Order is that?

Fa. Com. * A Preacher of the Holy Gospel.

L. Arch-b. What Gospel is that you call the Holy Gospel.

Fa. Com. The Gospel of Jesus Christ.

*The very same Answer which all unordain'd Speakers, who are Preachers at large, and run before they are sent, make

L. Arch-b. Under what Power do you own to hold that Gospel?

Fa. Com. Under Christ and his Saints.

L. Arch-b. Do you acknowledge any other Power, save Christ, to be on Earth?

Fa. Com. Yes, I do.

L. Arch-b. What Power is that?

Fa. Com. The Holy Catholick Church.

L. Arch-b. Do you not acknowledge a Defender of the Holy Catholick Faith?

Fa. Com. * God is the only Defender.

* Papists and Dissenters both disown Supremacy, or equivocate and dissemble about it.

Hereupon the Arch-bishop, addressing himself to her Majesty, said, Your gracious Majesty may perceive, that either this Man hath been instructed what to say; or, otherwise, he must be, by his Answers, a Man of Craft; to which the Queen reply'd, I suppose so, my Lord.

Then Commin was order'd to withdraw; and Her Majesty and the Council were sometime debating how to proceed in this Affair: After which, John Clerkson, the Arch-bishop's Chaplain, was call'd in before the Board: The Queen demanded his Name, which he told her: Then she farther enquir'd, Whether he was acquainted with Faithful Commin? To which he answer'd, He was. The Queen ask'd him how long he had known him? To which he reply'd, About a Year, or more.

Queen. What have you to say against Faithful Commin, that he is suspected to be an Impostor?

J. Cl. Three Things.

Queen. What be they?

J. Cl.

J. Cl. First, Let him prove his Ordination, since he fell from the Church of Rome. Secondly, Why he never cometh to the Prayers of the now establish'd Church of England, but starteth up, and preacheth to the People; * not coming into the Church 'till the Prayers be finish'd. Thirdly, Let him prove that ever he receiv'd the Sacrament, according to the Church of England, from any of our orthodox Clergy-men.

* The exact Mode of most Dissenters, who will come to our Churches.

Her Majesty and the Council having consider'd of these three Points, sent for the said Faithful Communion to come in again, who appearing, the Arch-bishop demanded of him,

Arch-b. Were you ever ordain'd?

Fa. Com. Yes, I was ordain'd.

Arch-b. By whom?

Fa. Com. By the Cardinal, (meaning Pool.)

Archb. Had you no other Certificate under any of the Bishops Hands, since the Reformation?

Fa. Com. Not any.

Arch-b. Wherefore would you dare to preach, having not got a License of Permission under some of our Bishops Hands? How shall we be assur'd that you are not of the Romish Church.

Fa. Com. There are several have heard my Prayers and my Sermons, and can testify, || that I have spoken against Rome and her Pope, as much as any of the Clergy have, since they have fallen from her; I wonder therefore why I should be suspected.

† Observe the Reason and Necessity of all Preachers having License to preach, and of settled Parochial Congregations; as also the great Care the Church of England takes to keep Papists from creeping in disguised among us, and the Opportunity Separation gives them to come among dissenting Congregations.

|| They that rail most bitterly against Rome and the Pope, may be Papists notwithstanding.

Arch-b. withstanding.

Arch-b. By your Answer, Mr. Commin, I perceive you would have any one preach, so that he speak but against the Pope in his Sermons.

Fa. Com. Not every one, but he whose Function it is, and he who hath * Spirit.

* Look here, a Fryer in Masquerade, of a dissenting Protestant, one of the first Pre-tenders to this extraordinary Gift of the Spirit.

Arch-b. What Spirit is this you mean?

Fa. Com. The Spirit of Grace and Truth.

Arch-b. † But is this Spirit, that is in you, either the Spirit of Grace or Truth, that doth not comply with the Orders of the Church, lately purg'd and cleans'd from Schism and Idolatry.

† A Question

worthy of the most deliberate Consideration of all Pretenders to the Spirit, and all those who follow them; for if they cannot, by the Fruits of the Spirit, mention'd Gal. 6. prove it to be the Spirit of Truth; or if it produces the Fruits of the Flesh there mention'd, Hatred, Variance, Emulation, Wrath, Strife, Seditious, Heresies, it must be the Spirit of Error. Let Separatists look well to it, for it concerns their Souls and Bodies, and those of many Thousands, who, if they be not in the Way of Truth, are in the broad Way that leads to Destruction.

Fa. Com. Therefore I endeavour to make it * purer, as far as God permits.

* The Pretence of all Dissenters for their Separation.

Arch-b. How do you endeavour to make the Church purer, when you neither communicate with her neither in Sacrament nor in Prayer?

Fa. Com. Yes, I endeavour it, when I pray to God that he would open the Eyes of Men to see their Errors; and several have join'd with me, when I have pray'd among them; and I have both given and taken the Body of Christ to those of † tender Consciences, who have assembl'd with me in the Fear of the Lord.

† The very exact Language of Dissenters, and the Original of tender Consciences, a Popish Pretence.

Arch-b.

Arch-b. By your Words then, you have a Congregation that follows you.

Fa. Com. I have.

Arch-b. In what Parish, and in what Diocese?

Fa. Com. || Neither of any certain Parish, nor in any certain Diocese.

Arch-b. Where then, I pray?

Fa. Com. Even in the wide World, amongst the Flock of Christ, scatter'd over the whole Earth.

The first Independent Congregation in England, gather'd by a Popish Dominican Fryer.

Queen. Your Diocese is very large, Mr. Commin.

Then being commanded to withdraw, the other two Witnesses were call'd into the Council-Chamber, and examin'd, as follows:

Queen. Mr. Draper, what have you to say to this faithful Commin?

Draper. He came to my House at the Maiden-head in Maidstone, with several of his Followers, where he bespoke a Joint of Mutton and two Hens for Dinner, hearing that my Profession was a Cook; I shewing him a Room, for him and the Company that came with him, perceiving several to come and enquire for this Mr.

Commin: But by chance going up the Stairs,

I heard * one groan and weep, which caus'd me to lift up the Latch. At first I was startl'd, and stood in Amaze; but enquiring of one of his Followers what ail'd the Man, he reply'd, Do you not see, we be all at Prayers? The Maid wondering where I was, came to seek me, and found me amongst them, and can testify the same.

 These passionate and raking Ways are no Demonstrations of a true Protestant, tho' join'd with Extempore Prayer.*

Queen

Queen. Are you Mr. Draper's Maid?

Maid. Yes, may it please your Grace.

Queen. What is your Name?

Maid. My Name is Mary Dean.

Queen. Did you see this Faithful Commi, that was here now before us, praying to the People?

* See here the extempore

Prayer of a Popish Dominican Friar, father'd upon the Spirit of God, and the People deluded by this Pretence to the Spirit.

Maid. I saw him, and thought he was distracted when I heard him pray; but the People said, * he was a heavenly Man, and that it was God's Spirit made him weep for the Sins of the World.

Queen. How long continu'd they at Prayers, do you know, Mr. Draper?

Draper. May it please your Grace, about † two Hours.

† Exactly like our Pretenders to the Spirit in the late Times, who made long Prayers, and devour'd Windows Houses.

Queen. What did they, after they had pray'd?

Draper. Some went from the House; and about Ten, or thereabouts, stay'd to eat what they had bespoken, and paid me to the utmost Penny.

|| Observe the Queen thought unordain'd and unlicens'd Preaching an Usurpation. Let Dissenters answer this, and clear themselves; for he that usurpeth over the Magistracy, resisteth the Ordinance of God; and they that resist shall receive Damnation.

Then the Queen commanded to call in Faithful Commi, to whom she thus spoke: Mr. Commi, if you will receive Orders, and become of the Church of England, you may; otherwise, you must not be permitted to pray and preach among my Subjects; and though you have, as appears by several other Witnesses, preach'd against the Pope, yet you have || usurp'd over the Power both of Church and State, in doing contrary to the Order that We, our Council, and Parliament, have unanimously agreed on, by and with the Consent of the whole Clergy of my Realm.

Fa.

Fa. Com. Give me Time to consider, and prepare my self, and I shall give your Grace a farther Answer in a short Space.

Queen. Is there any will be bound for your Appearance? Otherwise you must be kept a *close Prisoner; for we have other * Was this Tyranny in Queen Elizabeth, or a wise and just Defence of the Protestant Religion? Examinations to take, and Questions to demand.

Fa. Com. I have three, who will answer for my Appearance.

Then one Richard Bland, Brother to the said Commin by the Mother's Side, and two others, gave Bond for his Appearance; upon which Day, Commin, with his Bail, came and appear'd before her Majesty and the Council; but the Spanish Embassador being that Day to have his publick Audience of the Queen, the farther Examination of the said Commin was put off till the next Day.

But Commin coming from the Council to his Followers, told them, that her Majesty and the Council had acquitted him, and that he was warn'd of God to go beyond the Seas, to instruct the Protestants there, * Of which he was a good Confirmation, being a Papist; and one would think this were enough to banish this Popish Idol, extempore Prayer out of England. and that e'er long he would return to his Flock with better Success. * He told them, that Spiritual Prayer was the chief Testimony of a true Protestant; and that the set † Form of Prayer in England, was but the Mass translated. So, after he had with a Multitude of Tears, like a Crocodile, first pray'd an extempore Prayer, the better to prey upon the poor deluded People, he † A Papist, Author of that common Slander against the his Common Prayer. took his Leave of them, telling them, he had not one Farthing to support him in his Journey; yet being God's Cause, he would undertake it out of Charity; and he was assur'd, that the Lord would raise him up Friends where ever he travell'd. This Speech set most of the People a weeping, especially the Women, who requested their Husbands to contribute towards his Necessities: And it was made appear, after his Escape out of England, that they collected for him 130*l.* * besides what the compassionate Sex bestow'd upon him, unknown to their Husbands.

An holy Cheat.

* It is by some suppos'd, that this Practice is continu'd to this Day.

The next Day, April 13, her Majesty and the Council being assembled, and several others attending to hear this Examination, but no Faithful Commin appearing, Bland, and the other two, who were his Bail, were sent for; they coming before the Board, and being demanded where Commin was, and the Reason why he did not appear, made Answer, That they had perform'd as much as they undertook, which was, that he should appear the Day before; that if they had receiv'd any farther Directions from her Majesty and the Honourable Board, to have brought him as that present Day, they would have obey'd the Commands; but in regard the Party accus'd, was only spoken to, to appear, they suppose themselves discharg'd by his first Appearance, and not bound for his second. With which Nicety they drew their Necks out of the Collar, and Commin got an Opportunity to make his Escape.

A cunning Evasion to save both the Friar and their Money.

Her Majesty, sensible of this Affront, which was the greater, in Regard it was to be be a publick Hearing, caus'd diligent Search to be immediately made all over London and Kent ; but all in Vain, for he went away that very Evening, and was not heard of 'till some Months after. However, by this Search, they found out most of his Followers, who were examin'd before her Majesty's Council, and said, In their Opinions, they had never seen so zealous and so heavenly a Man as he seem'd to be. From their Examinations, the Council also came to discover the particular Sums of Money, of which this Religious Juggler had cheated these deluded People.

 Let their Opinions of Men be what they will, it is impossible for Discerners, who bear unlicens'd Preachers, to distinguish a true Protestant from a disguis'd Papist.*

There was no other Account of Commin, 'till on the 14th of September, one John Baker, Master of a Ship call'd the Swan of London, arriving at Portsmouth, said, He had seen the said Faithful Comm in the Low-Countries : Her Majesty being inform'd thereof, sent for Baker to the Council-Board, who there gave them this Relation :

That he had seen the said Faithful Comm in the Low-Countries ; and that coming to unlade some Goods at Amsterdam, one Martin Van Daval, a Merchant of that City, hearing him talk of the said Comm in, told him, That this Faithful Comm in had been lately at Rome, and that the Pope, Pius Quintus, had put him in Prison ; but that Comm in writing to the Pope, that he had something of Importance to communicate to him, the Pope sent for him the next Day, and, as soon as he saw him, said, Sir, I have heard how you have set forth me and my Predecessors among your Hereticks of England, by reviling my Person, and railing at my Church. To whom Commin reply'd, I confess my Lips have utter'd that which my Heart never thought, but your Holiness little thinks I have done you a most considerable Service, notwithstanding I have spoken so much against you. To which, the Pope return'd, How, in the Name of Jesus, Mary, and of all her Saints, hast thou done so? Sir, said Commin, I preach'd against Set Forms of Prayer, and I call'd the English Prayers, English Masses; and have perswaded several to pray Spiritually and Extempore; and this hath so much taken with the People, that the Church of England is become as odious to that sort of People whom I instructed, as Mass is to the Church of England; * And this will be a Stumbling-Block to that Church, while it is a Church. Upon which, the Pope commended him, and gave him a Reward of 2000 Ducats for his good Service.

* It is to be hop'd he will be a lying Prophet, who was a false one; and that this Religion

Her Majesty and the Council thanking Mr. Baker for his Information, order'd him to withdraw. And upon this, the Queen writ over to her Agents beyond Sea, (if possible) to have Commin taken, and sent over into England; but the Thing taking Air, and it being the common Discourse how the Pope had rewarded this Impostor, some of his Friends gave him Advertisement of his Danger, which made him quit the Low-Countries, and seek a safe Retreat in the Romish Territories.

However,

However, this produc'd that † Act for † This gave preventing Popery, and other Sects, which Occasion to the enjoin'd all People, from ten Years old Act for 12 d.
 and upwards, not having a lawful Impe- per Sunday for diment, to repair every Sunday to hear missing Divine- Divine Service, under the Penalty of for- Service.
 feiting twelve Pence for every such Default.

What is observable in this Narrative, is,
 the Original of separate Congregations; of Extempore Prayer; the vilifying the publick Church-Service, stiling it English Mass; the Pretences to the Spirit; the denyng the King's Supremacy; despising lawful Ordination, and Licenses to preach in stated Parochial Congregations; the juggling People out of their Money and Loyalty; are all Arrows that originally came out of the Romish Quiver: And that there can be no Doubt, but ever since this Man's Success, the Pope, and College de propaganda fide, the Jesuits and Priests, have been industrious to improve this Advantage, and to stock us with disguis'd Emissaries, who increase our Differences, and exasperate all the Separations against the Church of England, in Hopes, by our Divisions, to destroy both.

But that in the Mouth of two Witnesses, Truth may be justify'd, I will present the Reader with an exact Counter-part of the Romish Indenture, whereby they have all bound themselves to work the Ruin of the Church of England, by this Method of raising, fomenting, supporting, and exasperating Divisions and Separations among us.

The

The following NARRATIVE is a true Copy taken out of the Registry of the Episcopal See of Rochester, in that Book, which begins Anno 2 and 3 Phil. and Mar. and continu'd to 15 Eliz.

A strange Discovery of a Jesuit, counterfeiting a Protestant, to sow Division, and raise Sects.

IN the Year 1568, being the 11th of Queen Elizabeth, one Thomas Heth, Brother of Nicholas Heth, Bishop of Rochester, in the Reign of King Henry the Eighth, came to the Dean of Rochester; and pretending to be a poor Minister, made Application to him to present him to the Bishop, in order to some Preferment. The Dean thought it fit to hear the same Thomas Heth preach in the Cathedral-Church, before he would interest himself in his Behalf to the Bishop. Accordingly he appointed him to preach upon the 21 of November: He took his Text, Acts xii.
6. Peter therefore was kept in Prison, but Prayers were made without ceasing of the Church to God for him. But so it happen'd, that while he was preaching, casually, by pulling out his Handkerchief, a Letter dropt into the Bottom of the Pulpit, directed to him

him by the Name of Thomas Finne, from one Samuel Malt, a notorious English Jesuit, then at Madrid in Spain.

This Letter being found in the Pulpit by Richard Fisher, Sexton of the Cathedral, he carry'd it immediately to the Dean, who, upon Perusal, went presently with it to the reverend Father in God, Edmond Gest, then Bishop of that See, who, upon the reading of it, instantly caus'd the said Heth to be apprehended, and the next Day, being Monday, Nov. 22. brought him to Examination.

Bishop. Mr. Heth, how long have you preach'd in England?

Heth. About six Years and more.

B. Were you of any certain Order formerly, before this late Reformation of the Church of England?

H. Yes, I was.

B. What was that?

H. The Order of Jesus.

B. Are you not still of that Order, and have you not now and then some Correspondence with that Order?

H. The Ministry will venture to instruct one another; but your Lordship seeth how I have retir'd my self from those whom you call Jesuits.

B. We suppose, Mr. Heth, you have not totally forsaken their Tenets, though you have their Persons.

H. Wherein may I be suspected not to forsake their Tenets, as well as their Company?

B. There is great Suspicion, that you are

are not of the Church of England, by the Words which you spoke Yesterday in your Sermon.

* Observe the Design of the Papists, from the Beginning of the Reformation, to bring the Prayers and Church into Contempt, as not being spiritual Prayers, and how well

the Dissenters have copy'd this Original.

† The Language exactly of Separatists.

‡ A good Answer to both Papists and Dissenters. Quære, Whether the Directory were warranted by express Scripture.

* Diversity and Variety of publick Prayers, taken from a Popish Pattern,

no where warranted in Scripture.

† The Jesuit entrapp'd by his own Plea.

H. What Words were those, my Lord?

B. You said, That it was not those Prayers of the Church of England as are now establish'd, that brought Peter out of Prison, but * spiritual Prayers.

H. And were they not spiritual Prayers, that avail'd him? And where have we † Scripture for any set Form in the Church?

B. || If there be no Scripture for any set Form in the Church of England, much less for any set Forms among your Fraternities; for what we have establish'd, is out of the written Word of God. * But as for your Popish Orders, viz. Augustines, Dominicans, Franciscans, Jesuits, &c. you all differ in the Prayers of the Mass, one from another. Where then is your Scripture for so many Varieties of Prayers and Masses?

H. They have Antiquity on their Side; and for the Alteration of Prayers, every Fraternity and Convent hath Power among themselves, as is most fit, and for that Congregation assembled.

B. Now, seeing you have begun to talk of Antiquity, pray Mr. Heth tell me, † were all the Orders of the Church of Rome ordain'd at once. No, surely; for some Orders are ancients than others, by Reason they have been allow'd by several Popes: But as for yours, that Order was but

but of late Days establish'd; therefore you have little or no Antiquity to plead.

H. My Lord, you see I am fallen from that Society, which I perceive, by your Passages in examining me so strictly, you suspect me to be one of them still. I confess, † I am not so totally of the Episcopal Party of England, || because I have labour'd to refine the Protestants, and to take off all Smacks of Ceremonies, that in the least do tend to the Romish Faith.

† Observe that the Jesuits are Enemies to Episcopacy, and for a purer, or, in the Language of Dissenters, a thorough Reformation.

B. Hath our gracious Queen, by her learned Council, and Assembly of Divines, who several Times sat for the Reformation of Religion, now declar'd and confirm'd by her Highness's High Court of Parliament, establish'd the Forms and Manners thereof? * what hath any particular Man to meddle any farther?

|| A Jesuit pretends to refine, but intends to destroy; and it is evident, that whoever do so, do their Work.

H. † It was but my good Will in endeavouring to make it purer.

* An unanswerable Question to all Dissenters, who are no more but private Persons. † From the good Will of such Pretenders, whether Papists, or Dissenters, good Lord, deliver us. For we know by woful Experience, the Fire of reformating the Reformation pretends to refine; but being over hot, does

B. You are a pure Steer, I must needs say, in pretending that you are reform'd! yet let me ask you one Question, Mr. Heth; had not you of late any Letters from any of your Society?

H. I might have had Letters; must I therefore be of their Order still, because they write to dissuade a Man from his Principles? No sure, my Lord.

B. Your Society write, Mr. Heth, not to dissuade you, but that you may dissuade others; however, tell me, did you ever know, or hear of a Man call'd Samuel Malt?

H. I have heard of such a Man.

E

B. Yes, consume.

B. Yes, and you know him full well.

H. It may be so, my Lord.

B. Mr. Dean, shew Mr. Heth the Letter, and let him tell whether he knows the Hand-writing; and call in Richard Fisher to come into the Court.

R. F. Here, my Lord.

B. How came you by this Letter?

R. F. I found it Yesterday after Even-Song, in the Pulpit.

B. You know it if you see it; is this the same?

R. F. The very same.

The LETTER was as follows :

BROTHER,

THE Council of our Fraternity have thought fit to send you David-George-Theodorus Sartor, and John Huts, their Collections, which you may distribute where-ever you may see it may be for your Purpose, according to the Peoples Inclinations. These Mixtures, with your own, will not only a little puzzle the Understandings of the Auditors, but make your self famous. We suppose your Wants are not considerable at present, by what we have heard, how your Flock do admire you every Day more and more. Be not over-zealous in your Proceedings in the Beginning; but gradually win on them, as you visit them, and according as you find their Inclinations bend to your Design; let us hear how you have proceeded, for it will satisfy your Brethren much, and enable them the better to instruct you for the future.

Haltingham,

Halsingham, Coleman, and Benson, have set * a Faction among the German Hereticks; * The Original so that several who have turn'd from us, have of the Sects in now deny'd their Baptism, which we hope will Germany, among the Pro- soon turn the Scale, and bring them back to testants, from their old Principles. This we have certify'd to the Jesuits. the Council and Cardinals, † That there is no † The Reader is desir'd seriously to observe, other Way to prevent People from turning Here- ticks, and for thererecalling of others back again that the Jesu- to the Mother-Church, than by the Diversities its, Pope, and Cardinals, of Doctrines. We all wish you to prosper. have laid this down as a Maxim, That Divisions and Separations are the most effectual Ways to introduce Poperie, and ruin the Protestant Religion,

Madrid, October
26, 1568.

Sam. Malt.

B. Look here, Mr. Heth, here is a Letter, and it is to be suppos'd to drop from you, when you preach'd Yesterday; for none stood in the Pulpit but yourself.

H. Let me see the Letter once more, Mr. Dean. See, my Lord, this Letter is directed to another Man, nam'd Thomas Finne; but my Name is Thomas Heth.

B. You are not the first Man that hath chang'd his Name; How long have you been in Town?

H. About three Weeks.

B. To what Intent came you hither?

H. Upon two Accounts, my Lord; first, to visit my Friends, for my Brother Nicholas was Bishop of this See formerly: Secondly, to be preferr'd, for the Dean promis'd to recommend me to your Lordship.

B. Mr. Dean, did you promise to prefer Mr. Heth?

E 2

D. I

D. I did, my Lord, and upon that Account, I permitted him to preach before you; but this Paper hath alter'd my Intentions.

After this Examination, it was resolv'd to send to Mr. Heth's Lodgings, at the Queen's Arms in Rocheſter, where, upon Search, in one of his Boots were found his Beads, and ſeveral Papers, among which was a Liſenſe from the Fraternity of the Jefuits, and a Bull, dated the 1ſt of Pius Quintus, to preach what Doctrine that Society pleas'd, for the dividing of Proteſtants, particularly naming the Engliſh Proteſtants, by the Name of Hereticks. In his Trunk were ſeveral Books for denying

* The Papiſts
Authors of the Sect of Ana-baptiſts.

* Baptiſm to Infants; with ſeveral other horrid Blaſphemies, which being brought before the whole Aſſembly then preſent, the Biſhop adjourn'd the Court, appointing another Day for farther Examination, 'till they had acquainted her Maſteſty and her Honourable Council with theſe Paſſages, and ſent for farther Inſtructions how to proceed in this Affair. In the mean time Heth was committed a cloſe Priſoner, and manac'd, 'till Order came from the Board.

On the 25th of November, being Thurſday, the Biſhop call'd a Court, and ſent for Heth, who coming before him, a great Number being aſſembled to hear the Matter, the Biſhop ſpoke as followeth:

Mr. Thomas Heth, it is viſible how you have not only deluded ſeveral poor Souls, but alſo abus'd her Maſteſty and the Miniſtry fry of this Kingdom, by your Romish and Jesuitical Policy, purposely to sow Sedition in the Church of Christ. It is well known, that, tho' your Society have taken the Name of Jesus, by terming themselves Je- suits, yet you have deny'd Christianity, which is Christ; for several have been call'd by the Name of Jesus, but none by Christ, from which all true Believers term themselves Christians: By this means you endeavour to bring the People back to your Papish Zeal again: † But you will be mistaken; for † Those who that Sort of People, whom you endeavour, ^{still continue} through a blind pretended Zeal, to with- ^{these Separations, which} draw from the Church, will, at last, ^{the Jesuits first} be your Bane, ¶ and hate your Society; ^{begun, are de-} so that, at the End, when ye shall think ^{sir'd in the} ye have accomplish'd your evil Designs, ^{Name and Fear} and all upon the Church of Christ, those ^{of God, to con-} very People, whom ye have after these Sa- ^{sider, whether} tanical Delusions beguil'd, will not so much, ^{they are not} through Love, join with Christ, to over- ^{guilty of the} throw your Civil Intentions, as through ^{same Abuses.} perfect Hatred to your wicked Policies. ^{A Prediction} that Separatists shall, when they see how they have been a-bus'd by the Jesuits, unite with the Church of England to extirpate Popery, which they have endea-vour'd to re-establish, by overthrowing the Protestant Religion by their own Devotions.

To several Mens Knowledge, as we have since enquir'd after thy Actions, thy Hostess and her Husband have declar'd, that thou hast spoken against thine own Order; yet thou, by thy outward Purity, hast defil'd thine own Calling, under Pretence of purifying the Church of England.
 What can'st thou therefore say for thy self, that thou may'st not be made a publick Example to all Spectators, for thy wicked Schismatical Sedition, sown within these her Majesty's Dominions? Wilt thou

thou openly declare, before God and the World, thy wicked and evil Intentions, which caus'd thee to run into these Schisms, and reform thy Course of Life, which now thou livest in; and not only myself, but the whole Court here assembled, will endeavour to get thy Pardon, and provide for thy future Maintenance?

 Shame the true Reason why some persist in their Opinions; and not Conscience or Religion.*
† A true, but dear Experiment, to which the Church of England may write a sad Probatum.
 H. My Lord, I know not what I might have done, had I not been so publickly examin'd; * but seeing my Vocation is so publickly known, I shall not acknowledge myself to be guilty of any Misdemeanor; for I have fought a good Fight for Christ, whose Cause I have taken in Hand. † This Experiment I try'd among my Countrymen, that the World may see that all those who term themselves Protestants, are not of the Church of England, though they speak against Rome.

|| A Thing so-berly to be consider'd by Dissenters.
 A necessary Caution to all such as value their Souls, Bodies, or Estates, the Peace of the Publick, or the Protestant Religion.*
† Cedro digna! An Aphorism of undoubted Truth.
 The Bishop hearing him speak so obstinately, said, Behold, my Brethren, a Jesuit's Confession! how he hath declar'd, he had set up a certain Form of Religion, purposely to withdraw you from the Church of England! These Things will be among us, while we are a Church; || but woe be to those Deluders, or to those who will be deluded by them. We have a good Law, and the Light of the Holy Ghost now flourishing amongst us, which hath, for these many Years past, been absconded; * therefore, my Brethren, consider the Condition of your Souls. † If you start aside once from your Principles, having the right Way so plainly set before you, ye will not only run into Popish Slavery again, but be in Peril of a total Confusion of Soul and Body: || And if Rome get once her Foot upon these Dominions again, not only yourselves, and your Children, but your Princes and Nobles, shall become Slaves to their Idolatry. Which, without the Assistance of Separatists, is, humanly speaking, impossible.

After this, Heth was remanded to Prison, and for three Days brought to the Market-Place at Rochester, where he stood by the High Cross, with a Paper before his Breast, in which were written his Crimes; then he was Pillory'd, and on the last Day his Ears were cut off, his Nose slit, and his Forehead branded with the Letter R, and he was condemn'd to endure perpetual Imprisonment; but it lasted not long, for a few Months after, he dy'd suddenly, not without the Suspicion of having poyson'd himself. Observations to be deduc'd from this Narrative.

From this Narrative, we may observe, that the chief Rise and Original of our unhappy Divisions and Separations, is to be fetch'd from the Devilish Policy of the Papists, counterfeiting a Design to advance the Reformation of the Protestant Religion to a greater Purity; that the Pope, Cardinals, and Jesuits, have been always instrumental in raising these Divisions and Separations; and that they judge this the most effectual Way to introduce Popery; that they hate our Bishops and Prayers, and delude innocent and unwary People into a Dislike and Hatred of them; that there is no Way to discover them, but by their sowing these Seeds of Separation and Sedition; and that therefore it is the Interest terest of all true Protestants to unite with the Church of England, and thereby give that deadly Blow to the Romanists, which the Bishop here seems prophetically to foretel, and to quit these Separations, which otherwise will hazard the Ruin of the Protestant Religion, by the Introduction of Popery.

Thus have the Romanists dealt with us, and perswaded many to break down the Walls of our Church, to make Room for the wooden Horse of reforming the Reformation, whose Belly is charg'd with more Sects, Opinions, and Divisions, than that which conquer'd Troy, was with crafty Greeks.

All the Reigns of Queen Elizabeth and King James, they were busy in preparing the Materials, and undermining the Foundations of the Church of England; but in the Reign of King Charles the First, thinking themselves strong enough, by the Assistance of the Factions they had rais'd to effect their Designs, they gave Fire to the Train; and with the pretended Fears of Popery and Tyranny, they first set Scotland, next Ireland, and then England, into the Flames of a most horrid, cruel, and unnatural War, which they manag'd by the Strength and Power of Dissenters from the Church of England.

To confirm the Truth of this, I will give the Reader an Account, which I find in Mr. Rushworth's Historical Collection, (a Book much valu'd among Dissenters) who tells us of a Proposition made to the King of Spain, and discover'd about the Time that that the Spanish Armada came up the Coast of England, in the Year 1639. where, among other Passages, discoursing of an Enterprize upon Scotland, which was then in a high Ferment of the Covenanters against the King, Bishops, and Common-Prayer, the Proposer thus argues, That there could be no Fleet set out so strong, as to attempt them by Sea, except all the Kingdom contribute to it; which, says he, cannot be done, except all the States join; of which we of the Confederacy, shall be the greater Part; and so the Enemy shall forthwith be forc'd either to give Liberty of Conscience to the Catholicks, or put themselves in Danger of losing all.

Observe first, The Scots had no Enemies, but the King; or, as they pretended, his evil Counsellors, particularly Canterbury and Strafford, who all run the same Fate which the Papists, in Habnerfield's Discovery of their Plot, had contriv'd for them.

2dly. Liberty of Conscience was the Ground of the Quarrel.

3dly. They of the Confederacy, were the greatest Part of the States; but it is evident the Covenanters were the greatest Part of the States (for they had turn'd out the Bishops) at that Time; and if there be Sense in the Words, or Truth in the Relation, it gives a remarkable Glimpse of Light into this dark Vault, and imports a secret Confederacy against the King and Church of England, between the Papists and Covenanters; and that, that formidable Armada was design'd for the Assistance of the Covenanters. And the next Page, gives not only a greater Light, but a clear Vindication of the King from any such Compliances with the Papists, as were suggested, and made the Foundation of the War. As for the King of Great Britain, (adds he) if he will not give Liberty of Conscience, he shall be reduc'd to it with no little Damage. Now, who were they that press'd for this Liberty of Conscience, and did reduce these Nations to it, all People know. And a little after, he urges this Design from the Danger, If the King of England, being Confederate with all the Hereticks of Holland and Germany, Enemies of God and Spain, should be able to carry on his Pretensions and Title to the Crown of France: Add to this, that there is no Improbability that they, who would treat with France and Richelieu, (as was prov'd the Covenanters did, by a Letter written by the Lord Lowdon to the French King) would make no Difficulty to do the same to the Spaniard, then the most potent Monarch of Europe: And, which confirms the Opinion, I do not remember the Scots made any Complaint of this great Fleet, as design'd against them.

But that which makes the Thing plain, is, the Discovery which was made to Sir William Boswel, by Andreas ab Habnerfeld; which was communicated first by Sir William to my Lord of Canterbury, and by him transmitted to the King then at Tork, November 1640. The whole is printed by it self, and in Rushworth's Collections, and is too long here to be inserted; but the principal Parts and Matter of the Plot, was this, That there there was a Design on Foot, by the Papists, against the Life of the King and Archbishop; that to effect this, the Scottish Commo- tions were rais'd and fomented by the Jesu- its; that they exasperated the English Dis- senters, by the Severity us'd against Prin, Burton, and Bastwick, and the Scots, by the Fears of Popery, upon the Imposition of the Common- Prayer-Book; that Cuneus, or Con, the Pope's Legate and Chamberlain, a Scot, Chaplain and Almoner to Cardinal Riche- lieu, were the great Negotiators of this Conspiracy, and that the Design was to embroil these Nations in a Civil War. The Troubles came on so fast, as may well be suppos'd, were precipitated for Fear of a farther Prosecution of this Discovery; that the Arch-bishop lost his Head, for refusing a Cardinal's Hat, and opposing the Scottish Co- venanters; and the King his, because he would not give away the Crown, and pull down the Mitre, by granting Toleration. And however the following Distractions and Rebellion stifled the farther Prosecuti- on and Discovery of this Plot, yet the tra- gical Event justify'd the Truth of the Dis- covery.

What the Consequences of these Procee- dings would have been, if Providence had permitted those usurping Powers to come to any firm Establishment, God only knows; but a Tyranny in the Church, like that of the Papacy, is most suitable and natural to the tyrannical and arbitrary Govern- ment of Rebels, Regicides, and Usurpers. But God miraculously restoring the right ful Heir, King Charles the Second, to his Throne, and the Church of England to her pristine Splendor, we were in a State of Tranquility, till of late Years.

But the Papists, envious of our Happiness, began, or rather continu'd, to leaven the disaffected Party of Men in Church and State against both: And how far they had driven on their Designs for a second Revolution, few People can be Strangers; the old Stories were reviv'd, and new ones minted, to raise Fears and Jealousies of Tyranny and Popery, to set us all together by the Ears. The Scots were animated to a Rebellion, and did actually break out into a form'd Rebellion; the Dissenters were busy every where to calumniate the Bishops and Church, as Popishly affected; the Lawn-Sleeves were threaten'd, and the Episcopal Party branded with all the Names of Ignominy; so that the rich and wise Citizens of the great Metropolis of London, knew scarcely whether their greatest Danger was from Papists or Fanaticks, Wealth being always a Crime in popular Tumults and Insurrections; Sedition was as commonly talk'd, and as hot as Coffee was drank; and, in a Word, from the Court to the Cottage, none could escape the Imputation of being Popishly affected, who durst write or speak in Vindication of the Church of England, or against Dissenters.

And that all this was but a Branch of the late horrid Popish Plot against his Majesty's Life, the Government by Law establish'd, and the Protestant Religion, I offer offer the Testimony of Dr. Oats, the first and principal Discoverer, who all along charges the Papists, the disguis'd Priests and Jesuits, with managing the intemperate Heat of Separatists against the Government; and we cannot, without bringing a manifest and dangerous Disreputation upon the rest of his Evidence, but believe him, when upon his Oath he assures us, that the Jesuits creep in among Dis-senters, under the Disguise of Non-conforming Ministers, to divide and exasperate, to raise, and blow up Animosities and Calumnies, into actual Rebellion against the Civil Government, under a Pretence of their Dislike of the Ecclesiastical.

Thus, in his printed Narrative, Paragraph 1, he informs us, that Richard Strange, Provincial; John Keins, Basil Langworth, John Fenwick, and Harcourt, Jesuits, did write a treasonable Letter to one Father Suiman, an Irish Jesuit, at Madrid in Spain; in which was contain'd the plotting and contriving a Rebellion in Scotland, of the Presbyterians, against the Episcopal Government; in order to which, they had employ'd Matthew Wright, William Morgan, and one Mr. Ireland, to go and preach under the Notion of Presbyterians and give the disaffected Scots a true Understanding of the sad State and Condition in which they were, by Reason of Episcopal Tyranny exercis'd over them; and withal to tell them, they had now a fair Opportunity to vindicate their Liberty ty and Religion; and that it could be done no other Way, but by the Sword.

Paragraph 18. That the Fathers of the Society in Ireland, were very vigilant to prepare the People to rise for the Defence of their Liberty and Religion, and to recover their Estates.

Paragraph 35. That the Jesuits, by Order of the Provincial, were to send new Messengers into Scotland, to promote the Commotions there, and to inform the People of the great Tyranny they lay under, by Reason of their being deny'd Liberty of Conscience; and that not being to be procur'd, but by the Sword, they must take that Course to purchase their Liberty.

Paragraph 43. That two new Messengers were sent into Scotland, on the 5th of August 1678, one by the Name of Father Moor, the other of Sanders, alias Brown, with Instructions to carry themselves like Non-conformist Ministers, and to preach to the disaffected Scots, the Necessity of taking up the Sword for Defence of Liberty of Conscience; these the Deponent saw dispatch'd. To confirm this Evidence, it is notoriously known, that Father Brown, the Jesuit, preach'd several Years among the Presbyterians in Scotland; and he could not forbear boasting, on his Death-Bed at Ingestonbriggs, that he preach'd as downright Popery in the Field-Conventicles there, as ever he did in Rome it self.

Paragraph 50. The Deponent, Dr. Oats, saw a Letter from Father Ireland, August the the 7th, 1578, where, among other Things, he intimates the Joy he had, that the disaffected Scots would not lay aside their Endeavours for and after Liberty and Religion, and that the Catholicks of Scotland had promis'd to use the utmost of their Interest to keep up the Commotions there.

Here let me be permitted to make a little Break to confirm this Evidence, by a remarkable Passage which fell out some Years since, in the tragical End of the Lord Forrester. This Lord was the Person that, after the Defeat of the Rebels at Bothwell Bridge, took Occasion, upon the Indulgence granted by K. Ch. II. to erect a House within two Miles of Edinburgh, for a publick Conventicle of Non-conformists; and, for his building this Synagogue, went for a zealous Man among them; but so it happen'd, that not long after he was barbarously murder'd by a Woman-Relation, with whom he had incestuously liv'd many Years. After his Death, a Dispensation was found in his Closet from the Pope, to marry her; which, it seems, he delaying to do, she took his Life, as the Price and Reparation of her abus'd Honour; which plainly shews, that these Supporters of the Non-conformists, may be, and are secret Papists.

But to proceed, Paragraph 51. Among other mysterious Phrases relating to the Plot, John Keins told the Deponent, that the Provincial had taken great Care of keeping alive the Differences between the disaffected Scots and Duke Lauderdale, that Mum and Chocolate should be put down, and the Order of the Magpies should be turn'd to their primitive Institution and Habit. By Mum and Chocolate, meaning the Protestant Peers, and by Magpies, the Bishops.
the

And for a clear Vindication of the Bishops and Episcopal Clergy of the Church of England, from the unjust Imputation of being Popishly affected, (the common Brand which Non-conformists burn upon their Reputation) Paragraph 72. he informs us, that the Pope had issu'd out a Bull, in which he dispos'd of the Bishopricks, and other Dignities in England, as follows :

ARCH-BISHOPS.]

Canterbury, Cardinal Howard.

Tork, Perrot, Superior of the Secular Priests.

BISHOPS.

London, Corker, President of the Benedictine Monks.

Winchester, White, alias Whitebread, Provincial of the Jesuits.

Durham, Strange, late Provincial of the Jesuits.

Salisbury, Dr. Godden.

Norwich, Napper, a Franciscan Fryer.

Ely, Vincent, Provincial of the Dominican Monks.

Exeter, Wolf, one of the Sorbonne.

Peterborough, Gifford, a Dominican Fryer.

Lincoln

Lincoln, Sir John Warner, Baronet, a Jesuit.

Chichester, Morgan, a Jesuit.

Bath and Wells, Dr. Armstrong, a Franciscan Fryer.

Carlisle, Wilmot, alias Quarterman, a Secular Priest.

Chester, Thimbleby, a Secular Priest.

Hereford, Sir Thomas Preston, Baronet, a Jesuit.

Bristol, Mundson, a Dominican.

Oxford, Williams, Rector of Watton, a Town in Flanders, a Jesuit.

St. David's, Belson, a Secular Priest.

St. Asaph, Jones, a Secular.

Bangor, Joseph-David Keimash, a Dominican Fryer.

ABBOTS.

Westminster, Dr. Shelden, a Benedictine Monk.

Sion-House, Skinner, a Benedictine Monk.

DEANS.

Canterbury, Belton, a Sorbonist.

St. Paul, Leybourn, a Secular, Secretary to Cardinal Howard.

Windsor, Howard, with twelve Benedictine Canons.

Chichester, Morgan, a Secular.

Winton, Dr. Watkinson, President of the English Colledge at Lisbon.

With many other Dignities of the Church, dispos'd of to Foreigners in that Bull.

¶ Paragraph 74. That twelve Scotch Jesuits were sent into Scotland, to keep up the Commotions in Scotland, and that they had Instructions given them to carry themselves like Non-conformist Ministers among the Presbyterian Scots.

And Page 67 of the Narrative, Numb. 7. One Means, he says, they were to use, to bring in Popery, was, by Seditious Preachers and Catechists set up, sent out, maintain'd, and directed what to preach in their own, or other private or publick Conventicles and Field-Meetings.

Now, as in Reason we cannot believe the Papists are less solicitous for their Affairs in England, than in Scotland and Ireland; so we cannot but conclude, from this evident Matter of Fact, that they have been as industrious among the English Non-conformists, to sow dividing Principles, and animate them against the Government and Governors, both in Church and State.

And, that this may not pass for a bare Supposition, without Ground, I have heard Mr. Prance affirm, the Jesuits, Gavan and Whitebread, us'd to preach frequently in Conventicles in Southwark and other Places; and I am able to prove, Whitebread, alias White, the Provincial of the Jesuits, who was executed for the Plot, did, not many Months before the Discovery, and his Apprehension, preach in a Conventicle as a Non-conformist, at Spaldwick, within five Miles of Huntington; and that he had several Times done the like before, as was attested

attested by several of the Congregation, before divers Gentlemen in the County of Huntington; and if the Shame of Dissenters did not smother the farther Discovery of this Truth, for Fear of the just Reproach and Infamy it would bring upon them among the misled People, I doubt not but we should find these Fryers and Jesuits in Disguise of Non-conformists, and by false Names, as frequent in the Pulpits of Separatists, as their ordinary Teachers.

And indeed, nothing is more feasible or easy; for it is no more than for a Jesuit to bring a counterfeit Letter of Recommendation from some known Non-conformist, either out of the Town, if he designs to travel and preach in the Countries, as an Itinerant, or out of the Country, if he will preach in the Town; or a Certificate that he has preach'd in such or such Congregations, with their Approbation, which he is sure to have, if he inveigh against Popery, Bishops, Ceremonies, Common-Prayer, and for Liberty of Conscience, and the Business is done; and, without farther Examination, he is admitted into their Pulpits, and shall pass for a zealous Protestant and a heavenly Man, in the Opinion of the undiscerning Auditors, as Father Commin and Father Hetb have done, and many others before and since.

Whereas the Church of England takes Care, that none be admitted to the Charge of Souls, without all the Caution imaginable against Popery; they must take the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy; have Testimonials from Persons that know 'em, of their Ability and Soundness of Judgment; they must shew their Letters of Ordination, before they are admitted to preach in an unknown Congregation; and have a License from the Bishop of the Diocese, before they can regularly preach in a Congregation whereunto they are by Law instituted and inducted.

The natural Inferences which follow from this unquestionable Matter of Fact, here faithfully related, and offer'd to the serious Consideration of all sober People, of what Perswasion soever, are these:

1st. That the Pope and Papists have, ever since the Protestant Reformation, endeavour'd to raise up Sects and Differences in Opinion amongst Protestants, by sending their disguis'd Emissaries among the zealous and well-meaning People, to seduce them into Separation and Schism.

2^{dly}. That they look upon these Practices, as the most effectual Means to bring the People back to the Romish Religion, and to introduce Popey among us.

3^{dly}. That for this Purpose, they have been all along industrious in this Course, by depraving and traducing the Government of Episcopacy, as tyrannical, the establish'd Prayers as Popish; by extolling extempore Prayers as spiritual, by encouraging an unlicens'd Ministry, by preaching up Liberty of Conscience, and that it is to be obtain'd and maintain'd, at any Rate; and it is worth Observation, that Coleman dates the Æra of all the Misfortunes like to happen pen to Catholicks, from the fatal rescinding of the late Toleration; therein agreeing exactly with Dissenters, who were no less querulous for the stopping of that Door, though from him nothing can be more evident, than that the Jesuits design'd to bring in Popery at it, which they could not do, being openly excluded from the Benefit of it, but by pretending to be Dissenters.

4thly. It is most manifest, that all our late horrid Civil Wars, Rapines, Blood-shed, and the execrable and solemn Murther of the Royal Martyr King CHARLES I, and the Banishment of his Children, were effected according to the fore-Contrivance of the Papists, by the Assistance which Dissenters gave them, and the Opportunities they had to preach them into Rebellion, under the Pretence of a thorough Reformation, that all the late Commotions and Rebellions in Scotland sprung from the same Counsel and Conduct; and that the Papists will never be out of the Hopes of effecting our Ruin, nor without the same Opportunities they have hitherto had, so long as our Divisions are kept up and maintain'd, which give them the Advantage of dashing us one against another.

5thly. That therefore obstinate Dissenters are, before God, and according to the Judgment of the strongest Reason, built upon plain Matter of undeniable Fact, guilty of all the real Danger of Popery's prevailing again in these Nations, by the Ruin of the Protestant Religion.

6thly. That the Church of England, in Doctrine and Discipline, is the greatest Enemy the Papists have, according to their own declar'd Sense and Judgment, and consequently wholly innocent of any such Designs and Compliances, or Approaches to the Church of Rome, as Father Du Moulin, and other Brain-sick or worse People, endeavour to fix upon her: And that it is impossible to give a clearer Demonstration of the Innocence of the Bishops and Clergy of England, than Dr. Oats has in the 72d Paragraph of his Narrative before-recited, concerning the Pope's Bull or Breve, bestowing all the considerable Promotions and Dignities in England upon Papists there mention'd; which could not be done, without turning out the present Bishops and Dignitaries of the Church: And there cannot be a more demonstrative Argument, that He esteems them Hereticks and Enemies; for there is no doubt, but if the Pope had any Hopes of their Compliance with Popery, he would not only have consented to their Continuance in those Promotions, but have promis'd high Rewards and Encouragements to them.

7thly. That therefore it is the joint Interest, both of the Prince and People of these Nations, to support and defend the Church of England as now by Law establish'd; those of her Communion being, by a Tract of Experience of equal Date with the Reformation, found to be, both in Principles and Practice, the most peaceable and loyal Subjects, and soundest Protestants, of unshaken

unshaken Allegiance, and unblemish'd Loyalty; the ablest Champions against Po-pery, and the only Bulwark of the Protestant Religion, as is but too evident, by the constant Endeavours of the Papists, both by their own Power, and the Assistance of Dissenters, to undermine and overthrow it.

To conclude, as I have here impartially related Matter of Fact, and drawn necessary Inferences from it, without Animosity or Bitterness of Language, so I hope good Men will, without Prejudice or Partiality, weigh it in an equal Balance, and make that charitable Use of it for which it was intended, that it may be a Means for discovering the Source and Original of our Divisions and Distractions, our Fears and Apprehensions, and thereby give us the Opportunity to break the Snares of our Enemies; to which nothing can so effectually contribute, as our uniting in the Protestant Religion of the Church of England.

God, of his infinite Mercy, who maketh Men to be of one Mind in a House, who is the Author of Peace, and the Lover of Concord, who breaketh the Snares of the Ungodly, turneth their wise Men backward, and their Counsels into Foolishness; grant, that in this our Day, we may see, and know, and follow the Things that make for our Peace, that so our Divisions may not be our Ruin, that the Enemies of our Country and Religion may not triumph over us; but that, by our Union

Union with the establish'd Government in Church and State, we may defeat the Designs of our Enemies, and disappoint their Expectations. God long preserve the Life of our Dread Sovereign, and defend this Church, the most truly Apostolick of any Church upon the Face of the Earth.

FINIS.

